SECTIONALISM THING OF PAST, SAYS PRESIDENT

Declares U. S. Has Been Acting and Thinking in National Terms Last Four Years.

SPEAKS AT ANTIETAM

Deplores "Misunderstanding" Caused by Reconstruction Era After Civil War.

By The Associated Press

ANTIETAM BATTLEFIELD, Md., Sept. 17—President Roosevelt said today the nation during the last four years has been "not only acting but also thinking in national terms" for the first time since the Civil war.

He spoke at exercises commemorating the 75th anniversary of the bloody conflict here in which union soldiers turned back the southern forces.

Deploring the "sectionalism" and "misunderstanding" engendered by the era of reconstruction following the Civil war and contrasting it with the national spirit of today the President said:

"Deeply we appreciate that the distress or difficulty of any one part of the union adversely affects each and every other part. We stand ready in all parts to lend a helping hand to those Americans who need it most."

He dismissed discussion of "the rights and the wrongs" of the Civil war, telling the commemorative throng, "we can but wish that the war had never been."

Vandenberg Wants Constitution Upheld

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Sept. 17—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan, called upon celebrants of Constitution day today to meet "all usurpers and subversionists at the battle line of law and order with the relentless challenge 'they shall not pass'."

Speaking at an observance of the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the United States Constitution, he asserted that "when the recent senate turned back the effort to chain the (supreme) court to executive and legislative control, it not only saved this constitutional anniversary from becoming a hollow mockery but also it saved the soul of the republic."

"You can never make a tyrant out of the supreme court," he declared. "It lacks one single power of affirmative enslavement. It is answerable to a Constitution which you can change any time you please. But you can make any sort of monster, suited to the prevailing appetite of the ruling passion, out of a supreme congress or a supreme executive."

40 ET 8 TRAIN OFF FOR N. Y. TONIGHT

15 Marion War Vets To Be Aboard on Journey to Legion Convention.

A group of approximately 15 members of Marion County Voiture No. 45 of the 40 et 8 are planning to leave about midnight tonight on a 1,400-mile round trip to New York City in their recently remodeled locomotive and box car. At New York, which they expect to reach Saturday, they will enter competition with other voitures at the national convention of the American Legion.

The trip will be the longest ever made by members of the local voiture in their locomotive and car, the most extensive one previously having been to the national convention at Cleveland last year. It is possible they may make a trip to the San Francisco convention next year.

The crew of the train includes Ed Harrold, chef de train, Police Chief William E. Marks, William Bizor, Robert Martin, L. H. Larsen and Edward Solomon. Names of the remaining nine who are expected to make the trip will not be known until late this afternoon because of possible last-minute cancellations or reservations.

The trip will begin at the courthouse and the route from there on is rather uncertain, Mr. Harrold said. Hills will be avoided as much as possible. The men expect to return next Friday.

CONVERTS SOUGHT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17—Jehovah's Witnesses — officially the Watch Tower Bible and Tract society—spent most of another day of their international convention here by canvassing a 100-mile diameter area today, selling literature and seeking converts before the Saturday and Sunday high points of their meeting.

PIRACY PATROL WIDENS SCOPE

Sea Fleets To Battle Planes and Warships as Well as U-Boats.

WILL DESTROY ATTACKERS

Text of Nyon Accord Sent to Italy Before Publication Is Permitted.

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, Sept. 17.—The nine powers participating in war against piracy in the Mediterranean, led by France and Great Britain, signed tonight an elaborated accord providing for crusade against airplanes and warships as well as attacking submarines.

These points were added to the accord signed at Nyon last week.

British and French warships on patrol in the Mediterranean are empowered to attack surface warships or aircraft which make piratical attacks against merchant vessels.

In the case of air attack, the patrol ships will open fire immediately in an attempt to destroy the aircraft.

Can Call for Aid

If the attacks are by surface war vessels, the patrolling ships will "intervene" and summon additional assistance if required.

Publication of the text was withheld until tomorrow, because the conference as a "matter of courtesy" wishes to transmit it to the Italian government.

Italy refused to attend the Nyon conference last week, and the Geneva parley today. She likewise has declined to participate in the patrol, in which she was offered a limited part off her own coasts, unless given equal rating with Britain and France.

Britain meanwhile, ended the unsuccessful non-intervention patrol of Spain to make available her full quota of warships for the "more important task" of driving pirate attackers from the Mediterranean.

France joined in the decision. The foreign office announced the end of the patrol, formed by the 27-nation nonintervention committee in an effort to keep arms and men from either side in the Spanish civil war.

The decision to end the patrol, carried on by French and British warships after Germany and Italy withdrew in anger because of attacks against their ships last June, was considered a new rebuff to Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

Fascists Resentful

Italy and Germany already are openly resentful of the nine-power agreement drafted at Nyon and giving Britain and France major

JACK FROST NEAR

May Make First Call Tonight, Forecasters Say.

The first official notice that summer days are ending was given by government weather observers today as they predicted a possible light frost for tonight. It is the first forecast this year that Mr. Frost is approaching.

The prediction is also for fair and continued cooler weather tonight with Saturday generally fair and slightly warmer.

Yesterday the thermometer dropped to 38 degrees, lowest of the pre-fall season, and ranged as high as 69. A year ago the maximum was 82 and the minimum only 60.

CHINA BRANDS U. S. ARMS BAN UNFAIR TO HER

ENVOY VOICES OBJECTION

No Risk Involved in Reaching Japanese Ports, Chinese Contend.

By The Associated Press

NANKING, Sept. 17—The Chinese government was disclosed today to have protested officially to the United States against the government embargo on arms to the orient, charging it was unfair treatment of China.

Dr. C. T. Wang, the Chinese ambassador to Washington, was said to have conveyed the bitter reaction of the Chinese government to the United States state department.

The Washington decision, forbidding government-controlled merchantmen from transporting war supplies to either Japan or China, was characterized by the foreign office spokesman as "certainly not impartiality."

"It may be neutrality," he added, "but a complete embargo would at least be fairer, for it would halt all shipments to either China or Japan."

The American ban, while forbidding government-controlled vessels to carry arms to the orient, only warned private companies they engaged in such trade at their own risk.

Private vessels, the spokesman said, ran no risk in proceeding to Japan but a heavy risk in endeavoring to run the Japanese blockade of the China coast.

The first specific application of the embargo to the government-owned steamer Wichita of the American Pioneer line, halted at San Pedro with a cargo of warplanes for China, was seen as forcing China to turn from the United States to Europe for the planes it needs to prevent Japanese aerial mastery in their undeclared war.

At Tokyo the Japanese government broke its long official silence on the embargo. The foreign office spokesman declared:

"The Roosevelt munitions embargo is interpreted here as an effort by the United States government to avoid entanglement in the far eastern situation and it is generally supposed here it will render invocation of the neutrality act unnecessary."

Japan Reinforces Army at Shanghai

By The Associated Press

SHANGHAI, Sept. 17—Additional Japanese reinforcements for the halted drive against the Chinese defense line were reported today to have been landed on the lower reaches of the Yangtze river.

A Japanese spokesman declared the troops had already started advancing inland.

Foreign military observers believed this foreshadowed an imminent major campaign for the Shanghai area on the south side of the Whangpoo river.

A Japanese army spokesman insisted that Chinese reports of yesterday's capture of Lotien, 15 miles northwest of Shanghai, were false.

The major interest of Shanghai's foreign communities is now pointing to the expected arrival late Sunday of the sixth regiment of United States marines, totaling 1,500 officers and men under the command of Brig. Gen. John C.

FIVE INDICTED MEN ARRAIGNED IN COURT

Three Placed on Probation, Physicians' Examination Ordered for Two.

Five persons indicted by the September term grand jury this week were arraigned this morning before Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young, who placed three on probation and ordered the remaining two held for examination by physicians.

Probations were ordered for the three on recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel.

Regan Patterson, 47, of 684 Wood street and James Black, 24, of 572 Henry street, both indicted on charges of forgery were ordered to make full restitution, pay court costs and were placed on a 12-month probation period. They were accused of forging the name of J. L. Case, manager of the Marion Hi-Speed Co. to two checks for $62.50 each.

William DeWert, 35, of 629 Buckeye street, accused of receiving stolen property, was also placed on a year's probation. He is accused in connection with the theft of automobile accessories from Walter Snyder of 569 Blaine avenue.

The two ordered held for examination are Elsworth Annett, 30, of Marion, indicted on a statutory charge, and William E. Burke, 66, of Marion, indicted on a breaking and entering charge in connection with the theft of $75 in merchandise from a North Main street jewelry store.

NEW DEAL WINS DOUBLE VICTORY OVER TAMMANY

Copeland Suffers Two Defeats from LaGuardia in C. O. P. Race and Mahoney in Democratic Contest.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—The new deal won a smashing double victory over Tammany in New York City's mayoralty primaries.

Tammany's candidate, United States Sen. Royal S. Copeland, new deal foe, was defeated in both the Democratic and Republican primaries, today's count of yesterday's election showed.

Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, head of an anti-Tammany fusion movement and also a friend of the new deal, wrested the Republican nomination from Tammany's candidate by more than 30,000 votes.

Jeremiah T. Mahoney, choice of James A. Farley as candidate of an anti-Tammany, new deal coalition, defeated Copeland for the Democratic nomination by more than 160,000 votes.

To add insult to injury, more than 50,000 registered Democrats, without any organized backing, wrote in the name of La Guardia on Democratic ballots.

The new deal's triumph and Tammany's defeat may be even more marked than now appears, inasmuch as results in more than 10 per cent of the election districts in Tammany's stronghold, were withheld.

Election officials impounded the ballots in 69 Manhattan polling places, chiefly in Harlem, and sent the clerks home after they were unable to make a complete count.

The defeat is considered by some Tammany leaders to be the most crushing their organization has ever received, for Tammany Leader Christopher D. Sullivan, Copeland, and their chief adviser in the campaign, former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, were determined to administer a lesson to both La Guardia and President's Roosevelt's new deal administration.

More trouble is in store for Tammany, because Mahoney, with the skilfull coaching of Farley, who now sways the Democratic committees of the other four boroughs of the city, is expected to conduct a war of attrition against Sullivan, Smith, and their allies in the present Tammany leadership.

Tammany is threatened with still another beating in the general election Nov. 2, when, on the face of the showing made in the primary election, she appears almost certain to surrender her last grip on her more than a century's rule of New York City politics, when an automatic reappointment takes place under proportional representation. Brooklyn, which has shown itself today anti-Tammany

JURY FINDS GRILL OPERATOR GUILTY

Return Verdict Against S. C. Roth, Accused of Selling Liquor to Minors.

S. C. Roth, 36, manager of Stone's Grill at 119 South Main street, was found guilty of selling and furnishing liquor to minors under 20 years of age, at a municipal court jury trial yesterday. The jury deliberated slightly more than an hour before reaching a verdict.

The charge against Roth was lodged by state officers following a raid on two Marion night clubs, Aug. 14, in which five proprietors and two waitresses were arrested on charges ranging from selling liquor to minors to furnishing intoxicants to inebriated persons.

Judge William R. Martin deferred sentencing Roth yesterday when he was found guilty, until three days have elapsed, to give the defense counsel an opportunity to file a motion for new trial. Mrs. Henrietta Ghenco, 28, of 134 East Church street, a waitress, arrested in the raid on Stone's Grill, previously pleaded not guilty to charge similar to the one filed against Roth.

The conviction was the third in alleged liquor law violations growing out of the raids by state officers.

In the testimony yesterday a 20-year-old Morrow county youth said that he purchased a "blue gine fizz" at Stone's Grill the night of the raid by state men. City Solicitor Ralph E. Carhart, who is prosecuting the case, brought out through the testimony of state officers that the drink, upon being analyzed, was pronounced "intoxicating." The trial began shortly after 9 a. m. and continued until 5 p. m. except for a short intermission at noon.

Roth was represented by Attorney Roy J. Stone of Columbus. Stone could not be reached today for a statement of whether a motion for a new trial will be filed.

RELIEF SESSION ASKED OF DAVEY

By The Associated Press

CANTON, O., Sept. 17—The Ohio welfare conference held its closing sessions today after urging Gov. Martin L. Davey to call a special session of the legislature to provide for poor relief.

The conference also recommended distribution of relief be given to the state division of public assistance rather than to a special relief commission in resolutions passed late yesterday.

Banner Days Expected at Fair Today and Saturday; Rodeo Thrills Huge Crowd

6,000 Attendance Reported for Thursday; Livestock Parade, Colt Show and Races on Today; Rodeo and Fireworks Booked for Tonight.

Marion county fair officials, pleased with yesterday's turnout of approximately 6,0000 persons, prepared for banner days today and Saturday to bring the county's eighty-seventh annual agricultural show to a close.

A packed grandstand greeted the Sun Bros. rodeo in its first night fair program last night, and the entertainment won the applause of the spectators.

The troupe, headed by Harry Taylor, consists of 22 persons and 50 head of stock. Trick roping and whip cracking, broncho riding, fancy riding, trick shooting and comedy skits are features of the program.

Expect Big Crowd Today

Today's program was expected to draw the biggest single day's crowd of the week, starting off with a colt show this morning, a home economics demonstration in the junior fair, also in the morning, and with harness races and a junior fair style show on the afternoon program. The annual livestock parade was to be staked this afternoon between heats of the races. Tonight, the Eagles band will play at 7:30 and at 8 the rodeo program will get under way. Fireworks will be shown at the close of the rodeo.

Marion Man Performs

A Marion man, Paul Brown, 25, who has been playing throughout the state with a fair attraction, took the spotlight when he was featured in a jumping act as an added attraction in the rodeo last night.

Mounted on one of the show's high-jumping horses Brown cleared an open automobile and received a generous hand from the audience for the stunt. He is expected to appear tonight and possibly on Saturday night's rodeo program.

Brown, whose home is near the fairgrounds, is acquainted with several of the riders with the rodeo and until last week had been traveling with a similar outfit.

Saturday's program, expected to be swelled by a large number of Marion shop workers who will be off work in the afternoon, will include harness races at 1:30 p. m., music by the Prospect band at 7:30, the rodeo at 8 and fireworks at 9:30, bringing the fair to an end.

Fair officials hoped today for slight moderation of the cool temperatures that they believe has kept hundreds of persons away, but said the fair is headed toward a financial success if present weather conditions continue tonight and Saturday. Several thousand persons were on the grounds at noon today before the influx for the afternoon races began.

Veteran Rider Thrown

"Red" Hammersmith, a 35-year-old veteran of North Dakota who was born and reared on a ranch, won the plaudits of last night's crowd with his demonstrations of broncho riding. He is rated as one of the top flight broncho riders in rodeo shows.

Another rodeo entertainer who scored a hit is Miss Myrtle Mache, ranked as the second best rifle shot on tour today. She is a daughter of Buckskin Ben, former buffalo hunter and long-time rodeo showman who remained active until two years ago.

Bonnie Taylor, 18, one of the youngest trick riders in the rodeo game, is continuing her program after recovering from an ankle injury that interrupted her career several months ago. Other favorites in the show were Rubbydub, a clown, and his trained mule, Ed Padre, winner of a number of western broncho riding contests, Jack Minahail, fancy rope twirler and whip cracker, and Mrs. Eva Taylor, 30, whose handling of trained "high school" horses has won her a spot in Hagenbeck and other circuses in recent years.

Fair exhibits will remain on the grounds until late Saturday afternoon, and a majority of concession men indicated they will remain here until the Saturday night crowd dwindles.

FAIR FEATURES FOR TOMORROW

Outstanding features of the Saturday fair program follow:

1:30 p. m.—Harness races.
7:30 p. m.—Prospect band concert.
8:00 p. m.—Rodeo.
9:30 p. m.—Fireworks.

LINDBERGH RUMORED BECOMING A BRITON

Source Closely Connected to Flier Claims He Will Renounce U. S. Citizenship.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—The third intimation of recent months that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh intended to renounce his American citizenship and become a British subject stirred conjecture today on the flier's future plans.

The latest report came from a professional source associated with Lindbergh, and was neither confirmed nor denied elsewhere. The informant had an established connection with the hero of the first solo New York-Paris flight.

The only comment came from Col. Henry Breckinridge, Lindbergh's attorney. He said tersely:

"The only person who can confirm that is Col. Lindbergh himself. No one else has a right to speak for him that I know of."

Lindbergh sailed from the United States on a freighter in 1935 and settled in a country home at Seven Oaks, England. It was understood that he fled the United States in an effort to obtain privacy for himself and his family that he believed impossible here.

City Firemen Use Inhalator to Save Newborn Infant

Today the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McQuire of 442 Thompson street is "getting along fine," after a critical period at the child's birth last night when a physician and three city firemen, equipped with an inhalator, worked over it for nearly an hour.

The child apparently suffered from a minor obstruction in its respiratory passages at the time of birth and efforts were only partially successful in helping the child to breathe. It was born at 7:15 o'clock and after a physician and nurse had worked over it for several minutes, firemen were called with the inhalator.

The firemen worked on the child for 50 minutes. It had turned slightly blue because of its inability to breathe properly, but was completely revived with use of the inhalator. The physician reported that the child's condition was considered good" this morning.

QUIZZED ABOUT POLICE CASES

Ousted Captain's Attorneys Defend His Record in Handling Official Duties.

CROWD FILLS COURTROOM

Chief Marks Main Witness on Opening Night; Hearing To Resume Tonight.

The city civil service commission last night opened its hearing on the appeal of Ora DeWees, ousted police captain, in the common pleas courtroom and had examined nine witnesses before it adjourned at 11:15 p. m. to resume the hearing tonight at 6:30. Spectators crowded the small courtroom throughout the opening session.

Mr. DeWees is appealing from his removal from office on Aug. 16 on four charges, one of which was alleged use of excessive force in arresting Walden Warren Carey on July 18 on a charge of non-support. Carey, allegedly wounded by Mr. DeWees, died 12 days later. The other charges against Mr. DeWees are neglect of duty, inefficiency, misfeasance, malfeasance and nonfeasance in office.

The nine witnesses heard last night were Police Chief William E. Marks, Sergeant Clyde Hardin, Patrolmen Louis Klein, Lewis Cunningham, John Underhill, Mrs. Laura Boyd, Miss Inez McClure, George E. Goodspeed and Charles Goodspeed.

At the outset of the hearing the law firm of Wilhelm & Robinson, representing Mr. DeWees, asked that all witnesses be removed from the courtroom. This request was followed by a discussion as to whether Mayor Frederick C. Smith would be permitted to remain in the courtroom and to testify later. Mr. DeWees' attorneys insisted that if he planned to testify he leave while other witnesses were on the stand. They also objected to his sitting at the table of Safety-Service Director John V. Ruth, the prosecuting witness, contending he was not a party in the case. The mayor remained in the courtroom, hearing the proceedings from a nearby chair.

The commission members, Harold Clark, James E. Messenger and Frank Robinson, sat on the judge's bench. At the table with Mr. Ruth was Carter M. Patton, his attorney. Mr. DeWees, Mr. Wilhelm and Mr. Robinson sat at the opposite side of the table.

Opening Statements

Both sides outlined the main point of the case in opening statements to the commission. Mr. Patton, speaking first, said it is the duty of the commission to determine the sufficiency of the charges against Mr. DeWees. He reviewed the proceedings in the case, read all the pleadings filed with the commission, told of the shooting of Carey and his subsequent death and asserted he expected the testimony to show Mr. DeWees was guilty of a two-fold offense in connection with one incident—the attempted arrest of Loren Durbin—in that he used wrong methods in attempting to arrest Durbin and endangered the lives of innocent persons by firing at Durbin as he fled.

Mr. Patton emphasized that in presenting the case to the commission he did not intend to definitely connect each specific incident with one of the several charges against Mr. DeWees. Instead, he said he intended to lay before the commission the whole story of Mr. DeWees' conduct in connection with the several incidents and let the commission decide whether any of his actions constituted neglect, inefficiency, misfeasance, malfeasance or nonfeasance.

Mr. Wilhelm, in the opening statement in behalf of Mr. DeWees, pointed out the safety-service director had "gone back to 1934" to get one of the charges against Mr. DeWees and asserted that one of the incidents complained of—the arrest and alleged beating of Jimmy Ryan—happened while Mr. Ruth was safety-service director but no complaint about Mr. DeWees' conduct was made at the time. He said he expected the evidence to show that Paul Miley, whom Mr. DeWees allegedly beat with a blackjack, received no worse treatment than he deserved and asked the commission to bear in mind that police work is trying at times, policemen having to deal with the criminal element rather than law-abiding citizens.

Marks Testifies

Police Chief Marks was the first witness, and his testimony was the longest of any witness heard last night. He was first questioned about Mr. DeWees' conduct in connection with the attempted arrest of Loren Durbin at the police station on June 16, 1936. Chief Marks read Capt. E. C. Meehan's report that "Durbin got away from DeWees" and was picked up by an automobile. Durbin was never captured. His escape was one of the items of alleged inefficiency and neglect of duty charged up to Chief

CITY APPEALS PENSION CASE

IN H. D. ULINE TEST SUIT

Action Comes Following Similar Proceeding on Policemen's Pensions.

The city of Marion today carried the pension suit of Hilbert D. Uline, retired city fire captain, to the state supreme court. The companion police pension case of former Police Chief James W. Thompson was appealed earlier this week.

The appeal is from a decision of the Third district court of appeals at Lima last month denying the city the right to abolish the firemen's pension systems and reversing the decision of Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young.

In only one particular is the appeal of the firemen's case different than that in the police case, according to City Solicitor Ralph E. Carhart. The difference is technical only and results from the failure of Mr. Carhart and Grant E. Mouser Jr., Uline's attorney, to agree on what should go into the appellate court entry of its decision. Thus, in the Uline case the court itself approved the entry while in the Thompson case both Mr. Carhart and W. P. Maloney, Thompson's attorney, agreed on the entry.

Specific Statement

The difference is that in the Uline entry from the court of appeals it was specifically stated that the city council "is without authority in law to repeal said ordinance 3032." The ordinance was the one creating the firemen's pension system. The lack of authority was only implied in the entry in the Thompson case, Mr. Carhart said.

Mr. Carhart filed in the court of appeals today his notice of appeal to the supreme court, his assignment of errors and a precipe directing the clerk to prepare transcripts of the docket. A brief will be filed in about 10 days.

The appeal, as in the Thompson case, is both on a matter of constitutional rights and questions of law. The court must have arguments on whether it will consider the case on either legal or constitutional questions, Mr. Carhart said.

If the court decides there is a constitutional question involved, then it will conduct a hearing on written and oral arguments of attorneys, Mr. Carhart said. If the court decides there is no constitu-

WHEELER CALLS FOR BLACK QUIZ

Wants Roosevelt To Name Investigators Into Klan Charges Against Justice.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, joined today the critics membership in the Ku Klux Klan, declaring President Roosevelt should appoint an impartial investigating board.

If the charges are true, the President should ask for Black's resignation," said Wheeler, field marshal of the senate opponents of the Roosevelt court bill.

"This is a good illustration of what happens when an administration acts hastily and what happens when senators vote blindly for every suggestion that is made by the White House."

Brands Charges Spite

Shortly before Wheeler issued his statement at Fargo, N. D., Sen Reynolds, Democrat of North Carolina, declared that opposition to Black was "a lot of spite and political propaganda."

"Hugo Black in my opinion is a gentleman of the highest character," said Reynolds. "I voted for his confirmation and I would do it all over again because I know he is honest and able."

Further support for Black came from the convention at Kansas City of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Ship Builders, Workers and Helpers of America. The 600 delegates unanimously adopted a resolution commending the justice and President Roosevelt after Edward Keating editor of the magazine "Labor" praised Black as a friend of workers and farmers.

Bankhead Denies Klan Hookup

The furore created by published reports alleging Black was a life member of the klan became so broad that Speaker Bankhead denied that he himself ever had been a klansman.

Rep. Fish, Republican of New York, had hinted an inquiry might find several southern congressmen "on the klan payroll or affiliated with the organization."

Efforts to force Black off the bench were not limited to congressional critics.

ANOTHER FRUIT TREE DOING EXTRA WORK

The second report of a fruit tree in Marion county blossoming twice this summer was made today by eight-year-old Donald Redd, who found along the Scioto river, north of Prospect, a crab apple tree in full blossom Donald, the son of Mr. and Mrs H. A. Redd, of one-half mile north of Newman's, discovered the blossoms while he was walking near the river The tree had bloomed early in the spring, his father reported Earlier this week Mrs M B Augenstein of Waldo reported that a cherry tree in her yard was in blossom for the second time this year.

HOODED SOCIETY PROBED IN PARIS

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Sept 17—A secret military society, the "Hooded Ones," was investigated today on the possibility it plotted to overthrow the government.

Four suspected members of the organization were brought before an examining magistrate Questioning was behind closed doors and is expected to last several days.

Police who confiscated machine guns, hand grenades and personal documents in a raid on branches of the society, said they would continue raiding hideouts of the organization, which is called in French "Les Cagoulards."

O. W. U. PROFESSOR RESIGNS POSITION

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 17—Dr. William H. Husband, Ohio Wesleyan university professor of economics and business administration who has been on leave of absence for a year, resigned today to continue as a deputy to the federal home loan bank board in Washington, Robert L. Smith, graduate of Oberlin college in 1934 and a fellow of the Brookings Institute in Washington will replace him on the faculty.

BOY HIT BY AUTO SLIGHTLY INJURED

Buddie Hildreth, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hildreth of 909 Cheney avenue, escaped with a minor cut and bruises when he was struck by an automobile near Bellefontaine and Olney avenues yesterday about 3:30 p. m., according to a report to police.

Harold Bord of Sawjer road, who officers said was the driver of the car, reported the accident at the police headquarters. He was driving east on Bellefontaine avenue and near the intersection of Olney avenue two or three small boys ran across the street in front of his car. He was unable to avoid striking Hildreth, he said. The boy suffered a slight cut on the ear and was taken to his home by the driver of the car.

Nation Celebrates Amid Raging Controversy Over Supreme Court.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept 17—The nation celebrated today the 150th anniversary of the signing of the federal Constitution amid controversy reminiscent of that which raged around the historic document at its birth

President Roosevelt, whose proposal for reorganizing the supreme court instigated the present day constitutional dispute, will be the chief spokesman at the nation's official celebration tonight

His speech, scheduled for 9:30 p. m., eastern standard time, was awaited with widespread interest for a hint of his future course on judiciary changes

Observance of the event was begun last night by Sen Borah, Republican of Idaho, who told a Masonic audience

"Constitutional government is the only government which, in restoring the economic welfare of the people, at the same time preserves their rights and their liberty."

He made no specific mention of the President's court program, but asserted

"Until the people speak, until the people make known their desire, the Constitution is sacredly binding upon the people, upon officials, upon the congress, the executive and the courts

"It is sacred against the right or power of congress or the executive or the courts, or of all combined, to change or modify it through unwarranted forced or strained constructions. Such changes are usurpations—none the less vicious because not openly avowed."

A distinguished audience was invited to the Sylvan theater on the green sloping grounds of the Washington monument for the President's speech

It was an appropriate setting, in the very shadow of the monument erected by a grateful nation to the man who presided at the constitutional convention 150 years ago

Before tonight's celebration, President Roosevelt headed 75 miles into Maryland to participate in the commemoration of another event which affected the course of American history—the battle of Antietam on Sept 17, 1862

Tomorrow night he will leave for his family home in Hyde Park for a few days' rest before starting on a possible long trip to the western coast

Charter Has Been Changed 21 Times

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—The Constitution has been amended 21 times since its birth 150 years ago.

The first 10 amendments, known collectively as the bill of rights, went into force in 1871

Only one of the 21—the 18th or prohibition amendment—has been repealed.

MANVILLE'S FOURTH WAITING IN RENO

By The Associated Press

RENO, Nev. Sept. 17—Flaxen-haired Marcelle Edwards Manville went into voluntary retirement today as the first step in her third trip here—and the last one, says she—to divorce Tommy Manville

The former show girl arrived here by plane yesterday along with reports her husband had settled $200,000 on her in pre-divorce negotiations.

"I am going to get a divorce this time and that's that," she said Said Manville in New York:

"Oh, boy am I relieved"

DAVEY PROMISES PAROLE REFORMS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O Sept 17—A reorganization of the Ohio parole board and the system of redeeming meritorious convicts for society will be announced next week, Gov. Martin L. Davey asserted today.

Davey gave no indication in a formal statement along what lines the reorganization would be made but he declared.

"I feel sure that the program we are developing will meet the best expectations of all interested citizens We propose to make a thoroughly good job of it."

PLANE WITH AUTO ENGINE AT AIRPORT

Unusual Craft To Be Here Until Tomorrow Morning.

An airplane with a conventional automobile engine, one of few in the country and the first to visit the Marion airport arrived yesterday and will be here until tomorrow morning Harold Cobb, manager of the airport, after piloting the unusual ship for two hours said it operates just as well as an ordinary plane.

The motor is a regulation Ford V-8 engine. The plane is owned by the Arrow Aircraft Corp. of Lincoln, Neb., which is beginning to manufacture them commercially. They retail for $1,900

During its stay here, the plane is being used by Mr. Cobb to make free passenger flights for interested residents of Marion.

The plane cruises at from 90 to 95 miles an hour and gets 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline, Mr. Cobb said. It is a two-seated, low-winged monoplane with a wing-spread of 26 feet.

3 BADLY INJURED IN CRAWFORD CO. CRASH

North Robinson and Bucyrus Residents in Serious Condition at Hospital.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Sept 17—Three persons are in the city hospital suffering from serious injuries sustained in a head-on automobile collision one and one-half miles north of the Spanish tavern on the Boundary road, at 4:40 p. m yesterday.

Mrs Charles Althouse 33, of North Robinson, suffered a fractured skull and jawbone, and her face is crushed Her husband Charles Althouse, 35, suffered a fractured left wrist, a lacerated nose and possible chest injuries and Virgil Stoltz, 20, of Bucyrus, a possible brain concussion. The 3-year old son of Mr and Mrs Althouse who was with his parents, had only minor injuries He was treated at the hospital and released

The woman and two men have been unconscious since the accident and Sheriff Albert French who is investigating the case has been unable to get details of the accident.

The injured persons were taken to the hospital in an ambulance called by Mr Althouse, who walked a quarter of a mile to the farm home of Mrs Ed. Burwell after the accident Both cars were demolished

The road on which the accident occurred is not paved and it is believed that a cloud of dust raised by a car which preceded the one driven by Mr Stoltz, obscured the vision of Mr Stoltz and the driver of the Althouse car

NEW LINE GUARDED IN POWER ARGUMENT

Current Turned On Over Part of Utility System Fought by Farmers.

By The Associated Press

BELLEVUE, O, Sept 17—The Lake Erie Power & Light Co guarded its new lines today as each side awaited the other's next move in the fight between the company and farmers allied with the North Central Farm bureau.

Power was on today in a mile of new lines completed late yesterday by a large crew which replaced nearly 20 poles and half a mile of wires torn down by 100 angry farmers in the rural district of Fireside, three miles south of Bellevue

Company officials said they were not interested in the farmers' proposals to erect a competing co-operative line.

The company was completing an inventory of damage with a view to possible legal action because the farmers served written notice on Sept. 8 that they were prepared to use any means to prevent construction of the new line

The farmers who had picketed the line, withdrew following issuance of a temporary injunction against them by Judge C. H Huston at Tiffin

BISHOP COMMENTS ON BID TO MARTIN

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 17 — Bishop Henry W Hobson responded today to criticism voiced by Bishop William T Manning of New York and denied the Episcopal church general convention committee selected Homer Martin, Committee for Industrial Organization leader, as a speaker during the triennial convention here next month.

"I do not feel that the choice of a speaker for the meeting under discussion was a wise one," said Bishop Hobson in a formal statement.

LEAGUE WOOS NAZIS WITH REFORM PLAN

Proposes Separation of Covenant from World War Peace Treaties.

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, Sept. 17—A committee of experts studying proposed separation of the League of Nations covenant from World war peace treaties was reported today virtually decided on a redraft which it was believed might bring Germany back into the league

The "divorce" project has long been a favorite among league universality enthusiasts as a device for smoothing the way for German reentry to the fold.

The committee's method of meeting Germany's and other long standing objections to covenant references to post-war settlements included blue-penciling of all such phrases as "allied" and "associated powers."

This phase of reform was one of the planks of British policy outlined last September by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden

His declaration was interpreted as a gesture toward Germany The League of Nations was created in the preamble of the Treaty of Versailles which Reichsfuehrer Hitler denounced and nullified within Germany's borders

Hitler successively scrapped the military clauses by some of his most dramatic strokes—his reconstitution of the German air force creation of a conscript army and finally negeotiation of a naval treaty with Britain permitting a naval tonnage equal to one third of Britain's.

DINGLEDINE SEEN AROUND DEGRAFF

Special to The Star

KENTON, Sept. 17 — Harry Dingledine, 34, was sighted in the vicinity of DeGraff Thursday afternoon by a farmer according to a report given to Police Chief R. R. Clark. The farmer said he was positive that the man is the desperado sought in an armed robbery and police killing at Springfield and told officers that he was accompanied by three other persons, in a Ford sedan bearing Illinois license number 1-032-513

State highway patrolmen and officials of neighboring counties were notified. The car was traveling toward Quincy, O along side roads, the farmer said.

DRIVE PLANNED BY JUNIOR C. OF C.

Membership Campaign Set To Start Sept. 23.

Plans for a membership drive to be inaugurated Sept. 23 and continue until Oct. 7, were discussed at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce members, held last night in rooms on East Center street. Joe R. Roby was named to head the membership committee, which is to announce plans and open the campaign at the called meeting next Thursday.

It was announced that Robert N. FLOOD ROUTS REBELS AND FOES ADVANCE

Loyalists Attack After Blasted Reservoir Ousts Enemy from Trenches.

By The Associated Press

MADRID, Sept. 17—A dramatic incident of the long months of warfare on the Madrid front which enabled the dogged defenders of the former capital to make a small gain against insurgent siege lines was reported today.

Government soldiers last week discovered an insurgent water reservoir near Carabanchel, southwest of the city, and planted a dynamite charge.

The mine was exploded yesterday and water flooded nearby insurgent trenches. Soldiers were forced to climb out to keep from drowning.

When they appeared over the top they were cut down by government machine gunners

With that momentary advantage the government troops clambered over the top themselves and made a small gain of territory in their fierce charge

Reports from Hendaye said Asturian defenders of Gijon, falling back under the relentless thrusts of the Spanish insurgent offensive, were dynamiting the path of their foe

The insurgent's daily communique declared the Asturians resistance, which had drawn the praise of Gen. Francisco Franco himself, had collapsed before the insurgents' assault yesterday in a driving rain.

La Guardia's refusal to participate in the primary campaign, in which Mahoney and Copeland wrangled over the Ku Klux Klan, the Nazis, the Spanish and Chinese situations, pure milk, the five cent fare, and party loyalty, may have affected the primary vote cast for him.

The total La Guardia vote including the write-ins on Democratic ballots, was 131,484 in the most complete tally received Mahoney's total at the same time was 399,914 and Copeland's total on both tickets, of 279,800, was far above La Guardia's In contrast to this showing, La Guardia was swept into office in his first term by a landslide of 868,522 votes The total vote cast in the primary election yesterday apparently was smaller control of the pirate war in the Mediterranean.

Mahoney publicly attributed his victory to an approval of the Roosevelt administration.

Should La Guardia win the election from Mahoney, he will be the first anti-Tammany "reform" major ever to be reelected in New York.

Submarines are the major objective in the new anti-pirate patrol set up last week by the nine powers at Nyon, a conference boycotted by Italy and Germany.

Its Functions Ended

The nonintervention sea patrol is no longer "an integral part" of the structure to maintain European neutrality in the Spanish conflict, a spokesman emphasized.

The system of observers in ports, to check on vessels departing for Spain, will be continued momentarily.

As the Nyon powers met at Geneva, still deadlocked with Italy over her demands for parity in the new anti-piracy patrol, neither side showed the least sign of yielding in the dispute.

Italy has protested that her assignment under the Nyon accord to a patrol of the Tyrrhenian sea was too small a role, considering her interests in the Mediterranean and her standing as a maritime power. She demanded a part as large as those given to Britain and France.

GULDAHL SEEKS NEW GOLF CROWN

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 17 — Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, the bulky national open golf king, hoped to write another chapter today in the story of his climb to gold and glory by beating back the challenge of a field of 140 in the 37th annual western open tourney.

A year ago Guldahl hopped from the golfing depths to the peak by beating a stellar field in the western, carding a 64 on his final 18 holes to take the trophy. He followed that by winning a host of big money events, including the all-important national open, in which he set a new scoring record of 281 at Oakland Hills.

JOB CENSUS TO BE BY QUESTIONNAIRES

Vital Statistics To Be Sought from 30,000,000 American Homes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 — The Roosevelt administration is arranging a little piece of home work for the nation's unemployed this fall.

Officials said today the forthcoming unemployment census, first of its kind, probably will be handled by mailing simple, understandable questionnaires to all the 30,000,000 American homes

Only a few questions will be asked authorities said. They will be designed to gather only such information as degree of unemployment, ability to work, skill, and former occupations of the registrants.

Advisers to John D Biggers of Toledo, O., who accepted the directorship of the census yesterday, said the great majority of unemployed could fill out the questionnaires in their homes

Biggers, president of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co., said he hoped the survey could be completed by Dec 1.

Estimates of the total unemployed have ranged from 3,000,000 to more than 11,000,000

tional question, the case is ended for that part.

However, the court must then pass on the matter of legal questions which it is requested to consider in a motion to certify the record If it also declines to certify the record, then the case is closed permanently If it sustains the motion, then a hearing will be conducted but not on constitutional questions

Mouser To File Brief

Mr. Mouser will also file a brief of arguments in answer to the city's brief before the court conducts a hearing on the advisability of appeal.

The constitutional questions raised by Mr. Carhart are whether council can repeal the pension systems, whether state laws authorizing cities to establish pension systems are constitutional, whether pensions are a vested right, whether state laws authorizing pensions take property without due process of law.

Errors charged by Mr. Carhart in the court of appeals decision are the same as those in the Thompson case with the exception of the one described above

Uline's suit originated early in 1936 following the repeal in February by the council of pension systems established in 1926. The specific request in the suit is that the city be prohibited from using funds collected for payment of pensions for any other use.

COAST GUARD HUNTS LOST RACING SLOOP

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Sept. 17—Four coast guard cutters today pointed their prows northeast to Nova Scotia as, in a fanwise formation, they scoured the sea for the missing British racing sloop Endeavour I.

The cutters had searched the water 200 miles east of Nantucket, where the Endeavour and her convoy, Viva, became separated when their towline broke in a gale last Monday night, without success

Meanwhile, Capt. Wallace Grint, master of the Viva which was towing the unsuccessful 1934 America's cup challenger back to England, voiced fear that 15 fathoms of nine inch hawser attached to the Endeavour may have forced her nose under water.

Seafarers said the Endeavour could not have escaped some damage in the blow.

Japanese Seize Chinese Base

By The Associated Press

PEIPING, Sept. 17—Japanese army headquarters tonight announced that Chochow, Chinese advance base 40 miles southwest of Peiping, had been captured in a steam-roller Japanese offensive along the Peiping-Hankow railway.

The Japanese announced their mechanized forces, estimated at 50,000 men, had gained 12 miles in the last 24 hours after spectacular crossings of the Yungting and Chuma rivers, south and southwest of this city.

The Japanese command claimed further advances for its highly mobile column which has penetrated Shansi province from the north. It reported the capture of Hengyuan, 40 miles southeast of Tatung, the railway center of North Shansi, and of Laihsien, on the Hopeh-Shansi border 60 miles west of Paotingfu.

(In Nanking, however, Chinese military headquarters reported a strong counter-thrust against Japans' Shansi expedition Chinese airmen were said to have bombed it and inflicted heavy damage)

The main body of the Japanese army of 60,000 men effected the crossing of the Chuma river under the brilliant light of last night's moon and pursued the resisting Chinese rearguard toward Chochow, the new Chinese advance base 40 miles south of Peiping

The Chinese made a determined stand at the river but without artillery and airplanes were unable to halt the Japanese war machine Heavy toll of the two Japanese advance regiments was taken, however.

Foreign military observers considered that the Nanking government was deliberately sacrificing its regional troops in north China to retard the Japanese advance until the crack national divisions could man the main defense line some 20 miles south of the present operations

The present Japanese attack south of Peiping was expected to hurl the Chinese regional troops back to this strong line before the end of a week, placing the Japanese face to face with an entrenched enemy of superior strength. The Chinese will be supported on this line by adequate artillery and aircraft.

Observers are convinced that the Chinese defense of Shanghai has been depleted of airplanes so that they could be distributed on the north China front for the main battle with the Japanese. All Chinese and Japanese observers agree that the war will be won or lost in north China and that the Shanghai operations, while dramatic, have little tactical importance

Meanwhile, the Japanese-designed political framework for a new north China was believed emerging today as the result of a week's conference behind closed doors. The four independent governments now functioning in North China—the Peiping and Tientsin municipalities and the Hopeh and Chahar provincial councils—were reported being welded together under the direction of Lt. Gen. Seiichi Kita, new chief of military intelligence for north China.

Ridged rubber strips that cannot slip have been invented for filling joints in concrete roadways to reduce repairs.

UNION COUNTY FARMER DIES

Cone Howard Sr., Largest Land Owner in Vicinity, Stricken at 72.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 17—Cone Howard Sr., 72, was taken by death at his country home near Milford Center, Thursday.

Mr. Howard was the largest landowner in this county and the last surviving member of a family that was one of the pioneers in the development of Union county.

The illness came following a gradual failure of strength extending over a period of about six months.

Mr. Howard was president of the Union county board of education at the time of his death, and had served continuously on the board since it was organized in 1914. He was a member of the three Masonic bodies of Marysville. In addition to his agricultural interests, Mr. Howard was for years president of the Farmers & Merchants bank at Milford Center. He retired from that position two years ago.

His farming operations included dairying and stock raising on more than a thousand acres of land owned in Union township, near Milford Center. In his younger years he is said to have owned and farmed as many as two thousand acres in Union and other townships.

The widow and four children survive. The children are Mrs. Albert K. Chapman of Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Peter Merkle of Union township, Cone Howard, Jr., of Allen township and Verne Howard of Union township.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the home in charge of the Knights Templar and with Rev. John A. Stuart of the Marysville Presbyterian church officiating. Burial will be in the cemetery at Milford Center.

MARYSVILLE OPENS GRID SEASON TODAY

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 17—The football season here will be opened this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock when Marysville and Mifflin high school elevens clash in the first game of the season.

On the eve of the encounter, Coach Jerry Kingsmore and the local gridders are confident of victory, but are not overlooking the fact the invaders are equally as confident. Mifflin, a Franklin county centralized school, has a larger enrollment than Marysville high, according to Coach Kingsmore, who expects the local squad to have a real battle for the honors of the day.

All Paths Except The Road To Riches Are Open To Soviet Schoolboy of 14

This is the fifth in a series of six articles examining closeup the average boy of 14 around the world today...his prospects for the new school term—and for the future—at the age when, in America, he would this month be entering high school.

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Associated Press Foreign Service

MOSCOW, Sept. 17—From workers' homes, Russia's 14-year-olds go back to their classes this month to become good toilers and loyal supporters of the Soviet regime—unless war or something else happens to upset the "workers' paradise."

Constant supervision of his life by a communist, one-party government, the assurance of a job without riches if he behaves and perhaps distinction in some field of endeavor honored by the Soviets—that is the outlook for Ivan Ivanovich, the typical Russian boy.

He may become dictator, doctor, factory manager or flier, a scientist or soldier, or just a worker. Any career except that of capitalist, landlord or employer of labor is open to him.

Can Learn Trade Early

He might even study for the priesthood, as his "dear father, teacher and leader," Joseph Stalin, did before he became a revolutionary. But that is extremely improbable, for Ivanovich was born and reared under a godless, anti-religious regime. Atheism is part of his education.

At 14, Ivan is enjoying his seventh year of free education by the state and he has three more years to go to school. Then he may go to work, or to university, if he can pass the examinations.

If Ivan found school irksome and his parents were willing, he might go to work in a factory. Since he is only 14, he would work only four hours a day. His pay would be small, probably less than 100 rubles a month ($20 at the official exchange rate, but about $5 in buying power). And he would have to learn a trade in the factory school.

Must Enter Army at 19

It is quite likely, therefore, that Ivan prefers school. His father is able to support him, especially since the government provides many facilities, including free medical service.

Government regulation is on every side of young Ivan. He will feel it more as he grows older and goes to work. He is not compelled to be a Young Pioneer, or member of the communist youth organization for boys up to 16 years old, but most of his playmates—6,000,000 in the Soviet Union—are in it, so Ivan joins. He wears a red necktie as a badge of membership.

Five years from now, when he is 19, Ivan must begin two years of military service in the Red army. As a Young Pioneer he has learned discipline, marching to drumbeats and perhaps rifle-shooting or constructing gliders in a boys' club.

Knows Little of U. S.

Ivan has been taught that the capitalistic countries surrounding Russia are his enemies. The "fascist" countries, particularly Germany and Japan, are preparing war against his fatherland, he is told.

Ivan, who does not talk to foreigners, probably has little feeling about the United States, knowing it principally as the country to which Soviet aviators have flown by way of the North Pole and as a country noted for labor efficiency, which should be emulated.

Next: Japan.

FIVE ARRAIGNED IN UNION COUNTY COURT

Four Admit Guilt and Receive Sentences; Fifth To Be Tried Oct. 1.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 17 — Five men who were indicted by the Union county grand jury this week were arraigned Thursday before Judge R. L. Cameron by County Prosecutor William J. Porter.

Denell Austin, 25, of Plain City, indicted on a charge of burglary, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve from one to 15 years in the Ohio penitentiary. Austin was indicted on a charge of stealing chickens.

Carlton Morris, alias J. Barton, 47, of Leutea, Ky., pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery. The court withheld sentence for a day or two. Roy John Kierns, 25, of Plain City, pleaded not guilty to an indictment for assault and battery. The court assigned his trial for Oct. 1. Kierns was charged with assault and battery on his wife.

John Lester Parker of Jerome township, indicted on a charge of assault and battery on his brother, Earl Parker, entered a plea of guilty and was assessed fine of $100 and costs. Robert Roy Wilkins, 28, of Peoria, indicted for burglary, waived the reading of the indictment and entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced from one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary.

Social Affairs

MRS. ROBERT KREIS, a recent bride, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower when a number of her friends entertained last evening at the Center tearoom on South Main street. She found her gifts showered from a large sprinkling can decorated in her wedding colors of blue and white, which was arranged on a lighted table. "Crazy" bridge was played, awards going to Miss June Price and Miss Marguerite Coon.

Guests included Mrs. Kreis, who was Miss Helen Ferguson before her marriage, Mrs. Carol Carle, Mrs. Richard Meister, Misses Mary Stoner, Charme Lee Webster, Elsie Webster, June Price, Marguerite Coon, Kathryn Malo, Alice Flickinger, Donna Rae Biggert, Virginia Fetter and Ruth Williams.

ONE of a number of pre-nuptial social affairs complimenting Miss Kathryn Zachman, a bride-elect of Sunday, was the miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Harold Henry of Baker street last evening. Little Marilyn Dengler, as a flower girl and wearing a long pink lace gown over blue taffeta, presented Miss Zachman with a blue sprinkling can filled with coral tinted gladioli to which were tied scrolls directing her to her gifts. Miniature blue sprinkling cans filled with tinted mints were the guest favors and emphasized Miss Zachman's colors. Contests and games entertained the guests, awards going to Mrs. Glen Penry, Miss Dorothy Myers and Miss Mary Lewis. Refreshments were served.

Guests included Miss Zachman, Miss Dorothy Mack of Galion, Mrs. C. Z. Zachman, Mrs. Arthur Zachman, Mrs. Charles Dengler, Mrs. Leo Keller, Mrs. George Henry, Mrs. Dwight Anstey, Mrs. Glen Penry, Mrs. Sam Myers, Mrs. Dallas Johnson, Misses Elizabeth Zachman, Annadale Nixon, Dorothy Reasinsnyder, Mary Hogan, Ann Chappel, Mary Lewis and Marcy Mae.

Miss Zachman is the fiancee of William E. Keller of Toledo.

THE faculty of Vernon Heights Junior High school and guests were entertained at a picnic supper last evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. Eugene Auld at the Auld farm on the St. James-Bellville road. Miss Nelia VanMeter assisted Mrs. Auld in arrangements.

Others present were Principal R. A. Garlin, Mr. and Mrs. Alwyn Crane, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Cook, A. L. Auld, William L. Dowler, Mrs. Frank West, Miss Una Ackley, Miss Monna Brollier, Miss Lois Brookshire, Miss Mary Lee Conklin, Miss Grace Colvin, Miss Margaret Watkins, Miss Mildred Wetterauer and Miss Martha Hord.

Miss Glenna Walker entertained members of the L. S. D. club Wednesday night at her home on Merchant avenue. Miss Janice Brollier of Mt. Gilead was accepted as a new member.

Mrs. John Leibenderfer won a guessing contest and Mrs. George Wingett, Mrs. Burdette Jones and Miss Jean Snyder were awarded contest honors.

Plans were made for a wiener roast on Sept. 22. Mrs. W. E. Walker, Miss Martha Lee Walker and the hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Jean Snyder on Pennsylvania avenue on Sept. 29.

The L. N. S. club, a monthly dinner group, was organized last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Leffler of Linden place. The other members are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Naher, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Selter and Mr. and Mrs. Starling Somerlot.

The evening was spent playing rook, honors going to Mrs. Selter and Mr. Naher. A meeting will be held Oct. 21 with Mr. and Mrs. Somerlot of Girard avenue.

The Imperial Euchre club met last night at the home of Mrs. Marie Collins of Ballentine avenue. Three tables were filled, first honors going to Mrs. Iris Crowley, second to Mrs. Alma Siters and third to Mrs. Marie Collins. Mrs. Crowley won a prize for the most lone hands and Mrs. Gladys Saunders was consoled. Mrs. John Bird and Mrs. Charles Collins were guests. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Carol Williams of the Delaware road.

Mrs. Henry Ingmier of Jackson avenue entertained members of the Knock Knock bridge club Tuesday evening at her home. Miss Ila Parish was a guest. Mrs. William Barber received gifts in honor of her birthday. First honors were awarded Mrs. Harold Titus and Mrs. Gerald Thompson was consoled. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Norman Titus of Bennett street.

The T. W. M. club opened its season with a meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Marguerite Coon of Pennsylvania avenue. Honors in games went to Miss June Price. Miss Ruth Ann Radebaugh was consoled. Officers will be elected at a meeting Oct. 13 with Miss Price of South Grand avenue.

Miss Mildred Clark, a bride of next Sunday, was honored at a surprise kitchen shower given last night by Miss Florine Jones at the Clark home on Girard avenue. Miss Clark will be married to Frank Walters of Columbus Sept. 19 in a closed service at the Central Christian church.

The bride-to-be was led to her gifts by an original verse written by the hostess. Gifts were found at the end of streamers from a miniature shower curtain which was in her colors of blue and pink. Bunco was played, honors going to Miss Mary Howard, who is to be the bride's attendant. Mrs. George Meeker was consoled.

A luncheon was served by Mrs. Emmett Jones and Mrs. Avis Clark and Mrs. Virginia Grubaugh. Guests were seated at two long tables centered by the season's flowers. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Lorget of Huntington, Ind., and Mrs. Carl Reber of Green Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sands were given a housewarming last evening in their new home at 215 Pearl street by a number of relatives. The evening was spent socially and a lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Sands were presented a gift. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Beasley, Mr. and Mrs. George Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bentley, Misses Naomi and Minnie Beasley and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Decker.

Mrs. W. E. Walker of Merchant avenue was hostess to the M. N. L. club which met at her home Thursday night. Contests were won by Mrs. L. E. Moore and Mrs. Watt Roberts. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Walker, assisted by her daughter Martha Lee. The October meeting will be with Mrs. L. E. Moore of Boone avenue.

Plans were completed for a guest day party Oct. 6, at the home of Mrs. Walter Saltz on Duluth avenue, when the J' Amono Sunshine club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Harrison Bodley on North Seffner avenue. Plans also were made to remember a shut-in with a card each day. The remainder of the time was spent with bridge and needlework. Mrs. Paul Bish of Pleasant Acres will entertain the club Sept. 29.

Mrs. Fred Vestal and Miss Lucille Crock were awarded honors for high scores when the Just For Fun Bridge club opened the season last evening. The members were guests of Miss Margaret Schneider on Forest street. The hostess served refreshments assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. Schneider. A meeting in two weeks will be with Mrs. Perry Cooper on Woodrow avenue.

Twenty-two friends of Dean Krider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Krider of 548 Mound street joined him at a birthday party Wednesday afternoon in honor of his tenth anniversary. The boys played games and refreshments included a birthday cake. The celebrant received a number of remembrances.

Mrs. E. H. Cowan of DeWolfe court entertained members of Aid and Missionary circle No. 6 of the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at her home. Mrs. C. A. Stroud conducted the devotionals on the theme of "Faith." A social hour followed a short business session.

BAY RUM BINGES FOUGHT BY POLICE

UPPER SANDUSKY, Sept. 17 — Marshal Adolph Kirchner declared "war" on perpetual bay rum drunkards here Wednesday and has six persons in the local jail who have been placed on practically bread and water for the next 30 days. The six include knights of the open road, who are in the habit of begging for money and then purchasing their intoxicating drinks at local department or drug stores.

A PROBLEM FOR MAMA

Elfriede Augusta and Auguste Elfriede Sejvel (left to right or right to life—what's the difference") are the most identical twins known to science. They are Viennese, pictured in their home city. They have the same tastes, same heartbeat, same blood-pressure, same tone of voice, same weight. It is even claimed that their fingerprints are alike. What a job for mama!

Concert by Noted Pianist To Open Lecture-Recital Season

A MEETING of the board of the Ohio Federation of Music clubs and a concert by Carol Moorland, pianist from New York City, in Marion on Tuesday, Oct. 19, will be an auspicious opening of the 1937-38 season of the Marion Lecture-Recital club.

Following, on Oct. 20, the Marion club will entertain the 16 clubs in the Central district at an all-day meeting with Mrs. James C. Woods of Marion, district president, presiding. Mrs. Woods announced it will be observed as "federation day."

The year's program was discussed and general plans for programs were outlined at a meeting of the active membership last evening at the City library. Mrs. Karl W. Schell, president, presented the officers' plans for the year.

Marion has three state board members, Mrs. H. K. Mouser, radio chairman, Mrs. Woods, Central district president, and Mrs. Schell, recording secretary. Mrs. R. A. Herbruck of Dayton is the state president.

Meeting of State Board

The state board business session in the afternoon will be held at Hotel Harding and will be followed by a dinner for the board members.

On the evening of the nineteenth the Marion club will present Miss Moorland in a concert at the hotel. Miss Moorland was born in New Orleans and was educated abroad. She studied piano in Riga and Sweden with the famous Russian pianist, Simon Barer, and has just returned from a tour of Scandinavia and England.

Miss Moorland's program will be the only one by outside talent this year. The remaining five programs will be given by Marion talent.

Mrs. J. Eugene Auld, program chairman, and her committee, Mrs. John F. Lacey and Miss Lois Hall, have arranged a tentative calendar as follows.

November meeting at Trinity Baptist church, music furnished by club members. December meeting at the Central Christian church "An Evening With Ohio Composers" program featuring the club chorus; January meeting at Central Junior high school, illustrated talk on instrumentation by Homer E. Huffman, public school instrumental music supervisor; February meeting at Hotel Harding, program by Junior Lecture-Recital club; March meeting, last of season, "Music From Fairy Tales and Legends," by the club. Social meetings which the committee is planning will be announced later.

Ticket Plans Changed

During the 1937-38 season the policy of selling patron tickets will be dispensed with and only general admission tickets will be sold.

L. G. Jones, public school music supervisor, will again direct the chorus and Mrs. Lacey will be the accompanist.

Miss Elsie Ackerman, first vice president and president of the chorus, said the annual tryout date will be set within a week. Chorus rehearsals will start in the near future, probably next week, she announced.

Standing committees announced, other than the program committee, follow. Juvenile counselor, Mrs. Herman P. Watson, junior counselor, Mrs. Harry Mautz; study group chairman, Mrs. William Ackerman, memorial chairman, Mrs. George G. Kleinmaier, finance chairman, Mrs. James C. Woods; historian, Mrs. C. L. Rutherford, radio chairman, Mrs. Clara Campbell; civic and press, Mrs. J. A. Lott; legislative chairman, Mrs. H. K. Mouser; social chairman, Miss Wanda McMahan.

Personal Mention

John Lusch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lusch of Homer street, Robert McNamara, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. McNamara of Courtland avenue, and Robert Moran, son of Mrs. Bertha Moran of Oak street, have returned to the University of Dayton in Dayton, O.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hurley of Hane avenue and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Kinnear of East Center street left today for New York City to attend the national convention of the American Legion. They will motor through the New England states and Canada before returning home in 10 days or two weeks.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fisher and Adam Shirk of Peoria, O., were guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Turner of 878 Davids street.

SERIES OF EUCHRE GAMES ARRANGED

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Sept. 17—Wednesday evening, representatives of Crestline, Galion Bucyrus and New Washington councils, Knights of Columbus, met at New Washington to arrange a schedule for the county euchre series.

Eight games will be played, two at each of the councils, beginning at Galion on Oct. 20. The fourth and last games will be played at Crestline on Dec. 1 and Feb. 9 respectively. At the close of the season a banquet will be served.

Joseph Yanka, deputy for the Crawford County District, was in charge of the meeting. Representatives from Crestline Council were Thomas McCreary and C. J. Frye.

COUPLE MARRIES

BUCYRUS, Sept. 17—Announcement was made today of the marriage in Portland, Ind., June 14 of Miss Jean Ann Lichty, granddaughter of Mrs. Anna Lichty here and Ross Brinkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brinkman of Chatfield road.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Estate of Orley F. Shoots, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that Marguerite Shoots and Hazel E. Davidson have been appointed and qualified as Administratrices of the estate of Orley F. Shoots, late of Marion County, deceased.

Novel Costumes Feature Party at Country Club

CANNIBALS mingled with Chinese ladies yesterday at the Marion Country club when the women of the club held their annual "dress up" party.

It was an all-day affair, starting at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and continuing through the evening dinner hour.

All of the 40 women at the party were in costume—pretty, funny or clever, according to the inclination of the wearer—and when the golfers took to the course, motor traffic on the Prospect road was virtually at a standstill.

The women gathered at the clubhouse soon after the party started and the difficult task of judging began.

Mrs. Robert LaMarche, dressed as a southern mammy, won the prize for the cleverest costume and Mrs. K. M. Bower, dressed as a cannibal, even to a nose ring, was judged the funniest.

Honorable mention was made of Miss Emma O'Brien's Chinese costume, Mrs. Carl Danner's "Topsy" costume, Mrs. W. A. Dennis' garb as a colored man, Mrs. Fred Berg's "flapper" costume and Mrs. Douglas Felt's makeup as a Hawaiian.

When the morning's golf was over, Mrs. Bower was presented the low gross award and Mrs. LaMarche won the low net prize. Other prizes went to Mrs. Francis Bacon, Mrs. James R. Smith, Mrs. Howard R. Stoll, Mrs. C. O. Brown, Mrs. Robert F. Smith, Mrs. Hilton Greer, Mrs. George Alber and Mrs. C. J. Altmaier.

In the afternoon the women played bridge, awards going to Mrs. Altmaier, Mrs. F. B. Jennings and Mrs. R. T. Mullett.

Although yesterday was the last party on the calendar the women decided to continue enjoying the weekly club gatherings until late in the fall, and arranged for a steak roast next Thursday morning.

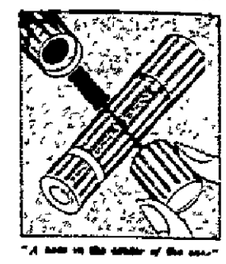
A Marvelous New Form of CAKE MASCARA



Yes, something really new, and good too! Cake mascara in a form that stays dainty and ladylike until all used up. Can't possibly become messy because it's hidden inside the sparkling metal case. And it has a totally new kind of brush that goes between the lashes, applies the mascara to the sides of the lashes as well as to their bottom surfaces, thus making lashes appear more luxuriant, even more stunning than ever before. And what a marvel this is! Neat, smooth, delightfully fine in texture, much faster drying, actually curls the lashes. Tear-proof, non-smarting, utterly harmless. Modernize with "MODERN EYES"

Satisfied then that he was out of sight, he rowed up river keeping close to the beach for a hundred yards or so, and headed back for the stern of the Montpelier. If the man on the after bridge caught sight of him it was all up.

He gained the shadow of the overhanging stern without any alarm being raised. Keeping as close as possible to the vessel, he rowed on around the bow of the Montmorenci and into the narrow pace between the second and the third ships. It was like a chasm between the towering walls of steel, with a narrow slit of the night sky showing overhead.

He had chosen to board the Montmorenci because the two outer vessels were of a newer style of construction, built so high he could not hope to climb to the deck. The Montmorenci had two promenade decks and he thought he could make the lower one.

Amidships only about four feet separated the two vessels. He ...ly took in his oars, and pushed himself along with hi hands. At intervals heavy square cribs of timber had been lowered between the vessels to keep them from chafing. Neill tied his skiff to one of these, and climbed upon it. By the aid of one of the ropes suspending it from above, he hauled himself up to the promenade deck, and crouched under the rail, listening.

The Alarm Goes Up.

All was still. Alongside ran the smooth steel hull of the Columbia with a row of dark portholes. Her promenade was some 10 feet higher. There were 11 men stationed about the decks of the vessels but Neill had the advantage of knowing where each was placed. At the moment he was safe under cover of the promenade, but he would have to expose himself when he leaped over to the Columbia, and again from the Columbia to the Abraham Lincoln.

Aft of where he crouched, he could see a faint radiance issuing from the windows opening on deck. It came and went. This would be the searching party in... side the ship. He crept to a ladder and ascended to the upper promenade. He was now on a level with the Columbia's promenade. Between four and five feet separated rail from rail. He took off his boots and hung them around his neck.

He made the first leap in safety and ran noiselessly aft along the promenade of the Columbia and around her stern. A roof overhead shielded him from the observation of the watcher on the after bridge. The promenade deck of the Abraham Lincoln alongside was on the same level.

As Neill made his second leap a surprised voice from above rang out: "Hey! What's that? Halt!" and the light of a flash struck down between the vessels.

The flash didn't pick him up. He ran forward on the promenade like a deer. (The Lincoln was pointing upstream). To get around the bow, he had to expose himself to the watcher above, but this man had been drawn aft by the cry of alarm and Neill was not seen.

The men on the different ships were shouting back and forth to each other, and Neill could hear running feet converging on the Lincoln. He worked with feverish haste. First to count windows on the promenade; 12 from the bow. There was plenty of rope. He uncoiled a coil and tied it in a slip knot to a stanchion opposite the twelfth window, letting both ends hang overboard.

He lowered himself over the rail. His calculations were right; he came down opposite the open window of the veranda outside Janet's suite. Swinging his legs inside, he caught hold of the top of the frame and dropped to the deck. The suite was dark, but he was aware of Janet's presence. He heard her catch her breath in mortal fear, and snatch up the gun.

"Jen!" he whispered. "It's me, Neill!"

A shuddering breath escaped her and the gun dropped to the floor. Neill jerked the rope, bringing it free above, and let the whole thing fall in the river. The tide would carry it away. He caught Janet in his arms and held her close.

"There's Always A Way"

"Oh, N-Neill!" she stuttered, trying to laugh. "I thought they had me!...I thought they had me!"

"Why did you come that way?"

"I had no choice. They are searching the ships."

"Searching the ships!"

He laughed to reassure her. "I'm one of the searching party!"

"Oh, Neill!"

"It's all right; We'll fool them yet!"

She clung to him silently. After a moment she murmured, speaking with difficulty: "No!....You must go back to them, Neill!"

"What!"

"When I am found you must make out that you never saw me before."

He laughed, rubbing his cheek in her hair. "Don't be foolish!"

"I mean it, Neill! There is no need for you to be drawn into it. You can help me more if you are free and unsuspected."

"But Neill!....!"

"Listen! Let's see if we can't dope out what they're up to."

He drew her out on the veranda and they stood listening at the open window. In the intense stillness, voices came drifting down from the boat deck. They distinguished Bonniger's voice.

"You say you saw somebody aboard this vessel?"

"I saw something, Mr. Bonniger. A shadow, like, flitting across from rail to rail. When I turned my light that way, it was gone."

Somebody else said: "I heard a splash."

"We'll search this vessel," said Bonniger.

"If he was on deck he couldn't get down below, but in Bickel.

"There is always a way, captain. I have already found one unlocked door, yonder. It leads into the engine room."

There was a silence while Bickel presumably examined the door. "Well, I'll be darned!" he said, "I'll rope this up right now. If he went down here he can't get out again."

"Forsythe," said Bonniger, "go back to the Montmorenci and bring over the rest of the search party. You men who are posted on deck, go back to your stations and keep a sharp lookout."

The voices moved away out of hearing.

"We are trapped!" murmured Janet.

"As Bonniger says, 'there is always a way,' said Neill with more confidence than he felt.

"Let us go down the rope ladder and swim for it."

"Useless, Honey. The ladder would be found and we wouldn't get far."

"Then let us give ourselves up and be done with it. What's the use of prolonging the agony?"

"No!"

"Have you any plan?"

"Wait! I'm not going to give up until I am forced to. . . . Quick! We've got to clean up this cabin. We must leave it looking exactly as we found it."

He snapped on the flashlight and laid it on the floor. He closed the windows on the veranda and the French windows, and they set about gathering up everything they had brought into the suite: ropes, bucket, spare clothes. The remains of the food and water were put in the bread box. It made a considerable load to divide between them.

When they were ready, Neill unbolted all the doors giving on the corridor as they had been when they came. They stole out carrying their belongings.

Janet and Neill play hide and seek with the searching bluejackets.

Marriage Meddlers

BY ADELE GARRISON

Lillian Fears Veritzen Is Seeking to Ruin Mary's Career.

THERE WAS dismay and compunction in Queen Olga's voice as she asked me if Philip Veritzen had suspended rehearsals of my play because of her plight. I was fairly sure that his becoming involved in the plot—so much bigger and more sinister than he guessed, and which for him had held only his lost love's deliverance—had been the reason for abandoning my play and Noel's operetta, but I told a valiant falsehood immediately.

"Indeed, no. That had nothing to do with it. Rehearsals were stopped for a long time before he made preparations for your rescue."

She drew a deep breath.

"I am so glad," she said simply, and Lillian went on.

"What has he told you of Mary's projected career?" she asked.

Double-Crosser!

"He said that she had stage ambitions, and that he was indulging her in the desire by furnishing her with certain training."

"The double-crossing old son of a sea cook!" Lillian exploded, and I saw Olga flash an odd look at her, one in which curiosity, sympathy, and—I was sure I was not mistaken—a tinge of resentment were mingled.

"What has he done?" she queried.

"I'm afraid he is paving the way for ruining Mary's career," Lillian returned. "Madge and I have suspected it before, and what you have just said seems to confirm it. Let me tell you what we know and suspect."

In crisp, staccato sentences, she told the invalid of Mary's great talent, of Philip Veritzen's early approving stamp of her, and his promise to make of her a Veritzen star. Then she outlined the occurrences which had made us fear that the great producer was "double-crossing" his protegee.

Plan for Mary

She finished by telling Olga of Phil's plan to send Mary to New York for the rehearsals of my play, and his stipulation that Noel was to remain behind, not to see his young wife at all during those rehearsals.

Queen Olga stiffened at this last revelation.

"But," she said, "that means that Olina and Noel will be thrown together constantly, depending upon each other for congenial young companionship."

"Exactly," Lillian commented. "And that isn't all. The best instance of Phil's Machiavellian hand is his announced plan to go on with the suspended production of Noel's operetta, making it highly desirable that Noel have the help and companionship of a gifted musician such as I understand your daughter to be."

"She is considered unusual by people of authority," Olina's mother said, not boastfully but as one declares a statement of fact. "But that is beside the point now. Phil must be out of his mind, or else his interest in his productions has blinded him to everything else."

"That may be the explanation," Lillian said with a curious doubtful inflection in her tone that I understood but which I did not think Queen Olga caught.

"Nothing matters to him, usually, save his productions," she went on, "and he drives himself as mercilessly as he does everything else. There is nothing new about his forbidding Mary to see her husband during rehearsals. He makes that a rule for all his feminine stars—they must have no social or emotional distractions. We may be imagining all the rest."

"No, you do not," Queen Olga said vigorously. "I am sure of his plan, and he is not—what do you Americans say—going to get away with it. I have heard Mary say that."

"But never so refreshingly to our ears as your utterance has come just now," Lillian smiled at her, "you to the utmost of our ability."

"And you may count on us to aid."

"First," Queen Olga said, not waiting for any conventional expression of gratitude, "when is he sending Mary away to New York?"

8,000 ATTEND WYANDOT FAIR

Ideal Weather Swells Crowds; Judging in Various Contests Nearly Finished.

By United Press

UPPER SANDUSKY, Sept. 17—Ideal weather until late afternoon swelled the attendance to an estimated 8,000 at the 85th annual Wyandot county fair Thursday, with judging in the various departments nearly completed. The day's program was also featured by a three-event race program, which proved quite an attraction with the grandstand practically filled and the fence between the grandstand and race barns heavily lined with spectators.

All of the races were fairly fast considering the weather, the record for the week being set twice by Single Six, owned and driven by Robert Vallery of Urbana, in the time of 2:08 in the feature race of the afternoon, the 2:13 pace.

An interesting program of entertainment was presented between intermissions in front of the grandstand. The program included acts by trained dogs, snake and clown act, Cowboy Bob and Jaunita in a display of marksmanship, Fisher and Graham, aerial acrobats, trained horse act, the magic Hindu trunk and sack act and acrobatic stunts by a human frog. William "Wild Bill" Kuhn, local daredevil, provided a thrill for the crowd when he crashed through a burning board wall.

A special night fair program was presented Thursday night before a fairly large crowd, while today was to bring the annual exposition to a close with another race program which includes a 2:16 trot, a 2:18 pace and a 2:20 trot. A colt show under the sponsorship of the Wyandot County Colt club was also presented Friday morning, with quite a large list of entries.

M., the following described real estate, situate in the County of Marion and State of Ohio, and in the Township of Claridon, to-wit:

Being known as Part of Sections 4, 3 and 9, Claridon Township, Marion County, Ohio, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a stone at the intersection of the Ulsh Road with the Columbus and Sandusky Road 32 links north from a point where the east and west section line between Sections 4 and 9 crosses the Columbus and Sandusky Road; thence south 8 degrees 20' West along center line of the Columbus and Sandusky Road 1394' to a stone; thence south 84 degrees 15' west 1613' to a stone; thence south 86 degrees 50' west 320.4' to a stone; thence north 3 degrees 10' west 1393.8' to a stone in the center line of the Ulsh Road; thence north 85 degrees 43' east along center line of Ulsh Road 2236.1' to the place of beginning, containing 66 acres.

This farm is well tiled, located on Route No. 98, about 4 miles west of Caledonia, Ohio, and about one mile North of the Marion-Caledonia, and—or Route No. 308, and improved with a 10-room frame house, a large barn 40 by 108 and the usual and necessary out-buildings, for such a farm.

Said Premises Appraised at $9,000.00, and cannot be sold for less than two-thirds of said appraisement.

Terms of Sale: Cash on day of sale.

FRED F. MILLER, Sheriff, Marion County, Ohio.

PORTUGAL CRITICI'ES HULL'S PEACE PLAN

Brands Proposal Lauded by Other Powers as Too Idealistic.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—Portugal introduced a pessimistic note today in the general world acclaim for Secretary Hull's peace program by characterizing it as too idealistic.

It presented this view formally to the American minister at Lisbon in a 2,500-word philosophical analysis so erudite in form and yet so biting in its implications that state department officials were left gasping.

"The nations (of the world) are attached to false ideas and have taken the habit of entrusting the solution of grave internal problems to vague formulae and inconsistent combinations," said the little republic's memorandum.

"To acknowledge by means of an impartial examination the inanity of the efforts made in that direction appears to this government to be the first step and the indispensable preparation of the ground for any constructive work."

Hull's 14-point program, made public on July 16, evoked from 59 nation's expressions ranging from mild agreement to support in extravagant terms.

Former Marion Couple's Child Magazine Model

Drawing of 4-Year-Old Joan Edmondson on Pictorial Review Cover.

The likeness of Joan Edmondson, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edmondson of New York City, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. [illegible] of 417 East Center [illegible] appears on the cover of the October issue of the Pictorial Review.

Friends of the family brought the attention of the artist, Jon Brunehl, and he chose her from among one of the child models usually used for cover portraits.

The child, her mother, who was formerly Miss Josephine Schroeder, and her two brothers, Dick and Bob, are visiting at the former home and will be here for the next two weeks. Mr. Edmondson is one of the editors of the Wall Street Journal, financial publication.

CONDUCTOR, 13, HEAVY SMOKER

Three Cigars, 15 Cigarets a Day Musician's Record.

By International News Service

BUDAPEST — A packed audience cheered Peter Decsi, 13-year-old conductor, at the end of his first concert. He conducted an orchestra of 100 members and produced pieces of Wagner and Beethoven. His mother played the piano in the concert. The child-conductor wore faultless evening clothes and lit a cigar at the end of the concert.

"I generally smoke three cigars a day," he said to this correspondent. "I was a little self-conscious and sometimes smoked fifteen cigarets. As a rule I generally prefer cigars. I do not care for sweets, as do other children of my class at school. I love meat and like to have a good glass of beer to begin dinner. I do not care for other children. My friends are all adults: doctors, barristers, artists. Mother taught me to play piano when I was four. I work very hard and hope to give two or three concerts every season. Of course, I still go to school, but this is not very important. I do not care for sports and have never yet seen a football match. On my next concert I shall conduct the 'Requiem' of Verdi."

An eastern railroad has constructed a steam locomotive that develops 6,000 horsepower and can haul a 140 car train weighing 1,200 tons at a speed of 100 miles an hour.

—The— Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

TEAM WORK

When you ask a happily married pair which charm or virtue they most admire in each other, it is amusing to see the look of blank bewilderment come into their eyes.

They don't know! They haven't stopped to think of it. Is it his thoughtfulness, his generosity, his intelligence? Is it her understanding, her sweetness, her sense of humor? They are utterly vague and uncertain about it.

But if you ask either of them what little failing they find hardest to bear with in their respective spouses, they wouldn't have to stop and think. They'd know right off the bat! And they wouldn't need a Greek dictionary to find a word for it.

What is a "good husband," anyway? Not a perfect husband or an ideal husband, but just a regular run-of-the-mine good husband—such as every girl hopes to draw in the matrimonial sweepstakes.

Newspapers and magazines are constantly giving new formulae for selecting a husband, a new system for picking out a wife, or a new recipe for making a "go" of marriage. But a husband is much like a cocktail—a mixture of several ingredients, and the only thing about him of which you can be absolutely sure is that you like him — or that you don't.

Oddly enough, a good husband isn't always a good citizen. And many a good citizen who obeys the laws, observes all the Commandments, pays his debts and keeps his wedding vows may be the most trying and insufferable of husbands.

On the other hand, carrying a gun in one pocket doesn't prevent a home-loving, thoughtful yeggman from remembering to bring the little woman a bit of jewelry or a couple of alligator pears in the other pocket.

Nobody can tell any woman what combination of qualities will make a good husband for her. Because the whole success of a marriage depends on the team-work! And unless a man and a woman are gaited to do team-work—unless each understands where the other is heading and pulls in the same direction and keeps the same pace, any marriage is hard sledding.

The trouble with most of the marriages which end in Mexico or Reno is too much "rugged individuality." Too much self-expression—and too little team-work.

What is needed for happiness in marriage is not a "model husband" or paragon of all the virtues—but a good running-mate.

Wide Variety of Season's Produce on Market Here

A wide variety of foods for the cook-ing table and for the first days of fall are being offered by Marion gro-cers and food dealers. Plentiful sup-plies of wholesome food for those whose appetites have been laid up during the last few days.

All winter and fall foods are not coming in as rapidly as might be expected, dealers said, but sufficient are on hand to satisfy most requirements.

A bumper apple crop is reported this year, meaning that this fruit, as well as Bartlett pears, late peaches and grapes, can be used freely for eating and cooking. Dealers sug-gest their use in a variety of des-serts, baked apples, cobblers, dump-lings and betty's.

Among the vegetables, green corn is again abundant and rea-sonable in price. Broccoli is arriving from the west to supplement home grown supplies. Beets, car-rots, onions, celery, many varieties of peppers, white and sweet pota-toes, squash and tomatoes are plen-tiful. Salad greens are relatively inexpensive with iceberg lettuce topping the list.

While vegetables will bring a large health return for money ex-pended they will not be apt to please meat-hungry men. Meats in general are somewhat higher than last week, though, forequarter cuts of lamb, veal and fresh pork are moderate, dealers said. Eggs are also plentiful.

A new automatic gas water heater for household purposes can be mounted directly over a kitchen sink and connected to the regular cold water pipe.

JIM FISK PICTURE HAS SPECIAL APPEAL TO MARION PEOPLE

"The Toast of New York," currently featured at the Palace theater, besides being an excellent semi-historical drama no matter where it is shown, is of special interest to residents of Marion because of a connection with the principal character, Jim Fisk.

One of the first of the "robber barons" of the past Civil war period in New York, Fisk was a likable but more or less unscrupulous financier. Outstanding among his coups was the seizing of control of the Erie railroad from old Daniel Drew. It is around this fight that the story centers, in the fact for at least 10 years Jim Fisk's former private railroad car was used here as a waiting station. It was later removed to the home of the agent here and used as a chicken coop, burning down eventually.

Comedy, tragedy and considerable interesting historical moments are contained in the picture. It opens with Fisk, portrayed by Edward Arnold, Nick Boyd, his partner, played by Cary Grant, and Luke, a friend, played by Jack Oakie, trying to figure out how to make money out of worthless confederate bonds.

Eventually they do. But as they do Fisk meets Josie Mansfield, played by Frances Farmer. The story of their courtship and engagement and the secret love affair between Josie and Nick is closely knit into Fisk's financial life.

To give Josie everything she wants, Fisk tries to corner the gold market and fails when the government intervenes. He so alarms the speculators with his brazen attempt that they form a mob and march to his private hotel. In the ensuing riot, Fisk is shot.

Short subjects on the bill include an Our Gang comedy and a new type of newsreel, "News of the Day."—J. E.

EAGLES TO DEDICATE HOME IN MT. GILEAD

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Sept. 17—The new home of the Mt. Gilead Aerie No. 605, Fraternal Order of Eagles will be dedicated Monday night with delegations of Eagles from Marion, Delaware, Galion, Crestline, Shelby, and Ashland aiding the local members in the ceremony.

The Crestline degree team will have charge of the initiation of a class of 50 candidates, the largest ever initiated in the history of the Aerie which was founded in 1904.

E. F. Foss of Toledo, state vice president of the Eagles, will be the dedicatory speaker. He will speak at 8 p. m.

The Eagles band from Marion will furnish music for the event.

The new home of the lodge is located on West Center street in a concrete block building which was formerly occupied by the U. J. Cover Seed Co. It has been remodeled and redecorated in the last two months since the Aerie leased it for five years with an option to buy at any time.

A club room is located on the first floor, kitchen and dining rooms on the second and the lodge room proper on the third floor.

St. Mary, La Rue Gridders Fight 6-6 Tie In Opener

First Irish Eleven For 13 Years Shows Promise

Untried Team Gains 223 Yards, Completes 6 of 8 Passes Against LaRue Veterans' 84 Yards, No Passes.

PLAYING like seasoned veterans, a fighting band of St. Mary warriors journeyed to LaRue yesterday and battled to a 6-6 tie. It was the first game that a St. Mary football team had played in 13 years.

Coach Bob Kelly, a former Dayton university star, had just three weeks to assemble a team from boys who had never played football. This fact was unbelievable after last night's battle. They gained a total of 223 yards over a team of veterans and completed six of eight forward passes attempted. LaRue gained 84 yards and failed to complete the two passes attempted.

Both teams were unusually light, boasting only a 135 pound average. However, this fact speeded up the game considerably and made it extremely difficult for referee Melvin J. Clark. The officiating was good but it was evident that more than one whistle tooter was in demand.

Irish Impressive

St. Mary looked very impressive at the outset. They drove straight down the field after receiving the opening kickoff and at the end of three minutes had scored the first touchdown for the Alma Mater in 13 years. They bogged down somewhat early in the second quarter after a beautiful 54-yard run by Sager, fleet-footed LaRue quarterback and allowed LaRue to push across its first touchdown of the season. Both teams threatened several times later in the game but were lacking the final push to put the tallies on the scoreboard.

With an eye on the future, Coach Kelly started a line composed of but one senior. The backfield has two last year men, but judging from the performance of the replacements, St. Mary will have no trouble in filling these vacancies.

Feldner received the kickoff on the twenty and ran it back to the thirty-five. Schuler made five through the line and Cafagno added two more, bringing the ball to the St. Mary 44. Jack Schuler then got loose and lugged the pigskin down the field 27 yards before being brought down. On the next play, Schuler added five more, putting the ball on the LaRue 29-yard line. A pass, Cafagno to Schuler, was good for 11 more. Cafagno picked up two through the center of the line and Schuler added five more. Jasper LaBarbara then went to work and shuffled through center for a first down, goal to go. A lateral, Cafagno to Schuler, was good for one yard, but Schuler was stopped cold on the next play. LaBarbara scored on an off tackle smash. The try for point was blocked.

Sager Runs Loose

Seemingly unimpressed by St. Mary's performance, Sager then received the kickoff on his own 34 and ran the ball to the St. Mary 13-yard line before being hauled down. A line plunge and an end run met with little success, but on the next try, Sager picked up two yards. On an exchange of punts, LaRue gained possession of the ball on the 35. Again meeting with no success through the stalwart Irish line, LaRue punted. St. Mary got the ball on the 28 yard line and made seven yards before Schuler's punt was blocked on the 18.

Not to be put off any longer, LaRue picked up four yards on the first try and called time to talk over the plan of battle. Sager picked up three and made it first down on his next try. With the ball on the three-yard line, Trapp made two yards through center. Sager then plunged over to tie the score. An attempted plunge for the extra point failed.

St. Mary took the kickoff on the 20 and picked up eight yards before being forced to punt. LaRue could do nothing in the way of progress and kicked to Myers who returned the ball to the 26-yard line. From this point, St. Mary put on another touchdown drive that was cut short by half time. LaBarbara made 21 on a beautiful run and added 12 more on a pass from Schuler. Schuler added five more on a sweeping end run, but at this point the whistle ended activities.

Second Half Scoreless

In the second half, Jim Feldner carried the kickoff back 15 yards to the 38. Schuler made nine yards on two tries and LaBarbara made it first down. St. Mary was penalized five yards. On an attempted pass, Schuler was smothered for a 10-yard loss. Another off side penalty set the Irish on their heels completely and they were forced to kick, the ball going out of bounds on the LaRue 21-yard line. Again LaRue could not penetrate the Kellyman fortress, and kicked to Schuler on the 38. LaBarbara picked up two and a pass, Schuler to Myers, netted first down. LaBarbara pushed through for seven yards and on an end run by Schuler, the ball was just short on a first down. LaBarbara fumbled on the next play, LaRue recovering. After an exchange of punts, with the ball on the St. Mary 35, a pass, Schuler to Cafagno, gained 15 yards but was not enough to make up the ground lost on two off-side penalties suffered previously.

The opening of the fourth quarter saw St. Mary take a desperate chance of pulling the ball game out of the fire. With the ball on

BOSTON BEES STING CUBS AGAIN, 7 TO 0, START FOR GIANTS

Tribe's Title Chances Finally Gone With 8-0 Defeat by Yanks.

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If you're looking for an argument, step up to Bill Terry or Charley Grimm today and tell them baseball is a young fellow's game.

They've been combing aging Boston Bees out of their hair for so long this season, that you'll be lucky if you get away with only an argument.

Largely through the efforts of their old man pitchers, Jim Turner, Lou Fette and Danny MacFayden, the pennant race has been as tight, up to now, as a frankfurter and its skin.

However, while the Cubs lost ground by dropping three-out-of-four to the Bees in their just-concluded series, there isn't much for the Giants to snicker about.

The Giants have lost ten games to the Bees already this season, and the Cubs have dropped nine. And in each case, six decisions were chalked up to the credit of Messrs. MacFayden, Turner and Fette, all of whom are looking back on their 31st birthdays.

Yesterday, Turner, who has won all three of his starts against the Giants, chalked up his second win at the expense of the Cubs with a seven-hit, 7-0 shutout. At the same time, the Giants, behind Cliff Melton's classy six-hit elbowing, trounced their cousins from Pittsburgh, 3-0 to pick up a full game and leave the pennant race in this condition:

Club	W.	L.	G.B.	G.P.
Giants	82	52	...	20
Cubs	80	57	3½	17

The Yankees boosted their American league lead to 10½ games by taking the Cleveland Indians, 8-0, behind Lefty Gomez's three-hit pitching. The outcome eliminated the Tribe from the pennant race and left Lefty with his 19th victory. The second-place Detroit Tigers were handed a 7-6 defeat by the Washington Senators.

The Cardinals got back into the National league chase with a twin win over the Phillies, 6-2 and 8-1. The Dodgers and Reds split, Brooklyn taking the first game, 8-6, and dropping the nightcap, 5-1.

Harry Kelley's hit won his own ball game as he pitched the Athletics to a 4-3 decision over the Browns. The Red Sox and White Sox were idle.

KENTON, FOREST TILT TO OPEN NEW FIELD

Ceremonies Will Dedicate $20,000 Athletic Grounds Tonight at County Seat.

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., Sept. 17—The new $20,000 athletic field of Kenton high school will be dedicated this evening by the Kenton-Forest high school grid battle before a crowd of some 2,000 fans, school officials said.

The Kenton high school band will present a 30-minute concert to be followed by short talks by Mayor W. C. Bopp of Kenton, Supt. P. W. Thomas of Forest, Supt. L. E. McKinley of Kenton, Principal Charles Secoy of Kenton, Coach Leroy Raber of Kenton and C. H. Wachtel, a member of the board of education, who will act as master of ceremonies.

The game will get under way at 8:15 p. m. It will inaugurate the Kenton high school season during which the Wildcats will attempt to continue a record that has shown no defeats since the early part of 1934.

COLUMBUS GETS ROOKIE

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17—Decatur of the Three-Eye league today sold outfielder John McGowan to the Columbus Red Birds for two players and an unannounced amount of cash. Pitchers George Sauer and Ray Bourell were assigned to Decatur in the trade. McGowan, 21 years old, bats and throws right-handed.

Bad Boys of The Pitchers' Box

PROBLEM PITCHERS
THE NATIONAL LOOP'S PROBLEM CHILDREN... UNABLE TO WIN IN THEIR PRESENT SURROUNDINGS YET TOO VALUABLE TO BE TRADED...
DIZZY DEAN
Van MUNGO
BROOKLYN'S BAD BOY AND ST. LOO'S "SOREHEAD" ARE GIVING THEIR MANAGERS HEADACHES!
LET'S TAKE A FEW DOZEN ASPIRIN!
GRIMES
FRISCH

Those two pitching prima donnas, Dizzy Dean and Van Mungo, have come in for a lot of publicity lately, and most of it has been highly unfavorable.

There is an odd similarity in the two cases. Both temperamental twisters have often had run-ins with their bosses, and both have often demanded to be traded.

This year, instead of performing up to expectations, Dean and Mungo have been prize flops. They have both used the old sore arm gag as an alibi, and neither Frisch nor Grimes were satisfied with this excuse.

Since Mungo and Dean apparently refuse to do their best in their present surroundings, it would seem that the only course open to their bosses is to trade or sell them. Yet both clubs are loath to do this, as Van and Diz are so valuable that they are sure to prove a tremendous asset if traded.

They are really giving both the St. Louis and Brooklyn clubs headaches galore. What to do with these problem pitchers? That's the big question.

Von Bromberg, La Crosse Booked For Mat Program

Count Von Bromberg's differences with the surly Boston gob, Gil LaCrosse, will come up for settlement at next Monday night's wrestling program at the Marion Steam Shovel gymnasium, it appeared today with the announcement by promoters that the pair has been engaged for a return duel. Their meeting will be one of two featured bouts on the program, the other bringing together Prince Nihalikas of Arabia and Bunny Martin.

Both scraps will be over the 90-minute time limits with two falls deciding the victor. The supporting program will include a 20-minute preliminary which will start the mat activity at 8:30 o'clock. The return of Von Bromberg and LaCrosse was the outgrowth of the German's insisting that he be given another opportunity to get the Bostonian in the opposite corner.

In a clash between the pair last week fans witnessed what almost could be termed assault and battery, as the hefty warriors slugged and punched each other to the canvas. The finishing touch, however, was put on in the dressing room without a single witness.

The first indication to handlers that something was amiss in the dressing room came when LaCrosse rushed from the place in a hurry, apparently being chased. One of the handlers stepped in to halt what he thought was an attack on LaCrosse by Von Bromberg. When the German wasn't on the heels of the fast-stepping LaCrosse, the handler investigated and found the count stretched out on the floor near the shower.

Around his neck hung a card table, which from all indications had been crashed with considerable force down over his curly topped dome. The count was out for nearly 15 minutes before regaining consciousness, and upon reviving he couldn't recall what had happened. Putting two and two together to get six, Von Bromberg accused his arch-rival and requested promoters for a return match. He had won the clash with LaCrosse, when the Bostonian was disqualified for roughness, but the dressing room incident broke out the feud anew.

The Bunny Martin-Prince Nihalikas scrap formed the preliminary on last week's card and spectators gave their clash such a wide round of applause that they have been booked for one of the full length clashes. Both are fast and aggressive, capable of handling themselves in rough company when it's necessary. The pair should show lots of action in their meeting next week, when they have ample opportunity to get warmed ahead of the final bell.

Harding Ready For Mt. Gilead Contest Under Floodlights At Stadium Tonight

Three hours of drill work on the Harding stadium playing field, part of which was under the floodlights, brought to a close last night the preparation of Coach Carl Cramer's varsity football candidates for the season-opening battle on the home field with the Mt. Gilead Indians, set for tonight at 8 o'clock.

Potential first-string men were sent zipping through their paces last night as Cramer and his assistants, Bill Williams and George Neimi, watched with eagle eyes to select the starting line-up for the inaugural game. Light scrimmage work, with considerable time spent on running through plays they will use tonight, composed the final drill.

As the varsity completed the three-hour workout at 8 o'clock the gridders dashed for the dressing room in high spirits and holding the belief that they will live up to the expectations of their followers tonight. An injury to Robert Castner, prospective fullback, marred slightly what otherwise might have been pronounced a perfect workout.

As Castner left the field for the showers, he accidentally struck one of the strands of wire stretched at the side of the field, and in falling, injured his left knee. The injury, although not considered serious, will undoubtedly keep Castner out of the line-up tonight. Other first-string candidates were in top condition at the close of the session and after a full night's rest, were expected to be "all set" for the starter's gun at 8 o'clock tonight.

While Harding high school is opening its football season tonight against a non-league foe, other members of the North Central Ohio scholastic conference will also be engaged in inaugural games. Only one league game is scheduled for tonight, Bucyrus treking to Mt. Vernon. Shelby, another N. C. O. member, will entertain Norwalk, Ashland meets Loudonville of the Mid-State loop under the Ashland college lights and Galion will dedicate its newly lighted field by playing Willard at the Heise park plant.

A student assembly and rally at Harding high school this morning gave the players and their school colleagues an opportunity to vent their pre-game enthusiasm. Cheers, songs and short talks by officials featured the rally and gave the varsity gridders further proof that a large band of student-followers are eager for an opening game victory tonight.

Activity in connection with the game will break open about 7 o'clock tonight, when a pre-game parade, led by the 50-piece Harding high school band, forms at Central Junior high school. The line of march, although not definitely fixed this morning, was expected to be east on Center street, south on State, east on Church and south on Vine to Walnut.

Probable starting line-ups of both teams follows:

Harding	Pos.	Mt. Gilead
McConnell	LE	Talbert
Stephenson	LT	Smith
Kenmerly	LG	Bigger
Fick	C	Wilson
Wintermute	RG	Wolfe
Baker	RT	McClelland
Hudson	RE	Burns
Frazier	LH	Erskine
Diehl	QB	Kuhn
Zeisler	FB	Weller
Williams	RH	Lee

Windsor, a McMillen horse driven by Smart was favored in the two-year-old trot but lost the first heat by breaking its stride going into the first turn. The initial heat was taken by L. E. McElwyn, with Stone Ridge Knight second Windsor came through to support the opinion of its followers by taking the second heat in a photo-finish, winning in the last three strides over L E McElwyn

Lucy Menifee took everything the field had to offer in the half mile running race. With McClellan up, the winner took a 10 length lead in the back stretch and came roaring home with flying hoofs that couldn't be closely matched by any of the four other entries. Grand Sweep, second place finished just that in the mile event, leading away from the post and to the finish. With the smiling colored jockey, Montoya up, Grand Sweep had little competition to fear from the two other entries.

Officials handling the races included Bert Shelton, presiding judge, and Dr. O. C. Alspach, assistant; James Lott, race clerk, D. C. O'Connell, Kay Davis and L. M Wickersham, timers and Henry Kraner, speed superintendent. Complete results of yesterday's events follow:

DAYTON IN FINALS OF BALL TOURNEY

DAYTON, O., Sept. 17—Victorious in six contests in the National Amateur baseball tournament, Dayton was assured today of play in the three-game finals with the winner of the Weirton, W. Va.-Toledo, O. floodlight game.

Dayton won from Kramer, Pa., 6 to 3 last night then drew a bye in today's round, leaving the Weirton-Toledo contest the only game carded Finals start Saturday.

COLUMBUS DEFEATED BY MILLERS, 3 TO 2 IN PLAYOFF SERIES

Toledo Loses to Brewers in Fight for Little World Series Chance.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 17—Columbus and Toledo may have finished 1-2 in the regular American association season schedule, but Minneapolis and Milwaukee are reminding the Red Birds and Hens that it's the playoff victories that count now.

Minneapolis, which finished third in the pennant chase, whipped Columbus, 5 to 2, last night to make its margin two games to one in the current four best of seven series

At the same time, the Milwaukee Brewers, fourth place club, took Toledo 11 to 4, gaining a 2-1 edge over the Mud Hens in their battle for the playoff title and a chance against the International league champions in the little world series

A tight pitching duel between Jim Henry of Minneapolis and young Max Lanier of Columbus was broken up in the eighth inning when the Millers scored two runs by bunching three hits Columbus scored its runs in the seventh on doubles by Siebert and Grube and a single by Jordan.

Toledo outhit Milwaukee, 15 to 11, but the Brewers scored 10 runs in the fifth to ruin the Hens chances Al Johnson was easy to hit, but the Hens found the Brewer hurler effective with men on base and he went the distance as Diz Trout, Al Cohen, Emmett Nelson and Vic Gorrell worked for the Hens

The Minneapolis-Columbus duel continues tonight at Minneapolis while Toledo goes to Milwaukee for a resumption of its series with the Brewers

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—Gossip from all fronts. John Hartigan of St. Joseph, Mo., recently played 13 sets of tennis in the finals of a district tournament between 1 and 7.30 p. m.—He was finalist in the men's and junior singles; mixed doubles and men's doubles. (P. S., He won the junior singles and five of the 13 sets) ..When young Bob Feller started soaring in the eighth inning against the Yanks Wednesday, Coach Art Fletcher bellowed from third base: "That she blows"

St. Mary, Shovel To Battle For Title Tonight

Marion's 1937 city softball championship will be up for decision tonight when St Mary of Sunday school league No 2 and Marion Steam Shovel of the Industrial circuit, clash in the final "Little World Series" game at 6 o'clock on the Lincoln stadium field.

Snyder and Everly are likely choices as starting moundsmen for the Diggers, while either Francis Robbins or Gene Gunder is expected to be on the hill for the Irish aggregation. In previous series encounters, St. Mary lost to the Shovel, 9 to 3, and then defeated Wesley, 8 to 1, while the Shovel team also won over the Wesleyans, 3 to 2.

CANTON, AKRON END PLAYOFF TONIGHT

AKRON, O., Sept. 17—The Canton Terriers and the Akron Yankees will decide the Mid-Atlantic league's playoff here tonight in the fifth and final game of their series.

They stood all square at two games each following Canton's victory at home last night, 8 to 4.

Big Ten Champs Center On Passes At Evanston

BY EARL HILLIGAN
By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 17—Northwestern's Wildcats, who dug their claws into the turf so successfully last season that they didn't have much chance to show their overhead ability, probably will be reminded from the opening whistle this fall.

Coach Lynn Waldorf's Big Ten champions, whose march to the title last season was featured by powerful off tackle smashes were put through another passing drill yesterday. And from all appearances, Waldorf is going to take to the air this season in an effort to balance what he says is weaker material vs harder schedule.

Passing also was one of the features of Minnesota's workout. Andy Uram expected to be the main cog in the Gopher offense, completed numerous overheads to Vic Spadaccini, quarterback, and Capt Bus King

At Illinois Bob Zuppke gave a half-dozen of his regulars a chance to rest minor injuries and saw Bob Wohrlin a 175 lb. team man in 1936, score two touchdowns and figure in three others in a 7-1 vs Blue Team scrimmage Chicago concentrated on passing setting set for today's initial scrimmage Purdue drilled on fundamentals

Ike McMillin brought sophomore Bob Steuber into action to compete with George Miller, Indiana's regular center of last season Offense underwent a careful scrutiny at Michigan where the Wolverines appeared listless after two days of scrimmage

Ohio State's varsity showed power in running up a 27 to 0 score on the reserves, but Wisconsin's Badgers did not look that good to Coach Harry Stuhldreher who expected pleasure with his squad during a defensive scrimmage

Coach Elmer Layden put his Notre Dame hopefuls through a long kicking drill

Football Game Under Lights a Great Show

Here is the fourth of a series of five booster sketches by one of Marion's best known and most enthusiastic sports fans, written to help rally Marionites to support of the Harding High school football team during the coming season, expected to be one of the most successful in years.

• • •

BY DAN L. LAMARCHE

On the eve of the new football season and with the previous comments dealing with those destructive forces within a school which leads to team weaknesses and sorry scores what of the fellow who buys a ticket to the game? (And that means YOU?)

Of all the limp excuses to give the team help from the stadium seats the worst is that the fan couldn't come because he was "tied up" doing something else too much work, too busy, too indifferent too everything

But there's a real treat for him and you this year Beginning with the first game on September 17, and for the next three games the team, YOUR team, OUR team will play four night games If you've never seen one you have a surprise ahead of you And you can not now say you had to work while the game was being played off!

Even if you know nothing about football, there is a spectacle for your eyes at a night game. Plays seem to be magnified. Players seem closer. Truly you see positions, plays, shifts, runs at night with a clearness you have never had at an afternoon game.

Besides the melodrama of real football under the "stage lights"—and the breaks in the weather were all against us last year!—you will see a new and better band already drilled and set to go to give you the sight and sound of big league football!

What'ya say—LET'S GO!

NINE WITNESSES HEARD AT OPENING SESSION OF DE WEES APPEAL HEARING

Relating what happened at the time of the escape, Chief Marks said he was sitting in the window at police station and Mr. DeWees, then desk sergeant, was at the sergeants desk when Durbin came in the station and walked up to the gate separating the corridor from the police department rooms Chief Marks said Durbin started talking to him about an automobile part that he (Marks) wanted to get, and that while they talked Mr DeWees obtained from the files a warrant for Durbin's arrest on a charge of breaking and entering, walked over to the gate and started to read it to Durbin. Durbin, he said, shouted, "It ain't right," slammed his fist on the counter across the top of the desk and ran out

When asked to tell the relative position of Mr. DeWees and Durbin while the warrant was being read Chief Marks said Durbin was outside the gate at the time and DeWees was inside, the gate between them Mr. Patton asked if it would have been proper for Mr DeWees to take Durbin into custody and then serve the warrant on him "It would have been best, the way it turned out," the chief answered "Had you intended to arrest Durbin?" Mr Patton asked "Yes," the chief said.

Incident Described

After the chief described what took place in the station in serving the warrant and Durbin's flight, Patton asked.

"Did DeWees pursue him?" A—"He did."

Q—"Were any shots fired?" A—"I found out afterward, two."

Q—"Did DeWees tell you he shot?" A—"Yes."

Q—"Where did the shots go?" A—"If I understood, one went into a brick building and I think the other went into a frame building, but I don't know."

Q—"Were any complaints made by citizens about firing shots?" A—"Not that I recollect"

Patton returned to the question of the serving of a warrant as it was done in that particular instance and asked:

"Did you ever reprimand DeWees for his conduct as to his attempted arrest?" A. "We talked about the escape, that happens occasionally to most anyone"

Q. "Did you ever reprimand DeWees for firing the shots?" A. "I often caution the men about shooting about being particular to be careful"

Mr. Patton then directed the chief's testimony to the arrest of Paul Miley on April 20, 1935, for creating a disturbance at a doctor's office and read Mr DeWees' report of that incident. On the way to the police station in an automobile driven by Mr. DeWees after Patrolmen Cunningham and Kirts had made the arrest, Miley turned on Kirts and was beating him with both hands Kirts and Miley were in the rear seat of the car, and Miley was apparently winning over the patrolman. The chief read portions of Mr. DeWees' report that "I stopped the car and knocked him off Kirts"

Mr. Patton asked the chief about the arrest of Jimmy Ryan, alias Bettner, on Feb. 1, 1936, and Chief Marks read the captain's report telling that Ryan had been arrested for intoxication and resisting an officer.

Then the chief's testimony was switched to the Garey case, Mr. Patton asking that DeWees' report on the shooting be read.

Text of DeWees Report

The complete "special report" of Mr. DeWees to Chief Marks on the Garey shooting follows.

"3 a. m. Tong and I went to Wilbur Hughes' residence at 660 Lee street to serve a warrant on Warren Garey Tong went to the door and Mr. Hughes came to the door and told Tong that Warren Garey was there and would be downstairs in a minute.

"Warren Garey came to the door and let Tong in the house. Tong told him he had a warrant for his arrest. Garey said he would be ready to go as soon as he went upstairs and got on a pair of trousers. Tong waited at the foot of the stairs about 15 minutes and called to Garey and asked him if he was ready. He didn't answer and Tong saw him drop from the rear upstairs window and run. Tong ran out the back door and gave chase. I got into the police car and drove south in the alley at the rear of 560 Thompson street and Garey gave us the slip in the alley.

"6.10 a. m. Tong and I went to the Hughes residence at 660 Lee street and as we neared the house I told Tong to get the car door open and run to the rear of the house as soon as the car stopped Warren Garey was hiding behind an outbuilding at the rear of the lot along the C. & O. railroad and started to run across the tracks Tong ran up on the railroad and called to Garey to stop and then he shot once at him in the direction of the Blake home on West Fairground street. I jumped in the car and started east on West Fairground street and drove through Blakes' private driveway to Blake avenue and then west to the intersection of Toledo avenue. I stopped the car and saw Warren Garey about 100 yards from me, running in the direction of northeast. I called to him to stop. He stopped and looked at me and started to run again. I shot once, low behind him, and called to him to stop. He stopped again and then looked at me and then started to run. I ran about 25 feet toward him and called to him to stop. He looked at me and started to run I shot low just as he was going behind some high weeds and I think he crouched just as I shot and the bullet hit him high on the right hip and come out the left side. I ran over to him as I thought he was putting on an act to get my gun. He said 'Why did you shoot me?' I asked him where he was shot and he pulled up his shirt in the back and I saw a bullet hole high on his hip By that time Tong came over where we were and I told him to stay with him while I called an ambulance.

I called the Curtis ambulance and took him to the City hospital where he was examined by Dr. Willey, Dr. Axthelm and Dr Weinbaum They said he was in very good condition and they will take an X-ray this morning

"I called the chief, Prosecutor Michel, Solicitor Carhart and Dr. Axthelm to the hospital Robert Hedges took a statement from him and he admitted it was all his fault as he heard Tong and me warning him."

Account of Inquiry

Following the reading of DeWees report on the Garey incident, Mr Patton asked the chief

"Was there a further investigation made?" A—"There was"

Q—"Where and by whom" A—"At the hospital Myself, the prosecutor, city solicitor, coroner DeWees Tong, I forget who all were at the hospital"

Q—"Was the safety director there?" A "I don't think he was the first thing in the morning Later in the day."

Q—"Was he there at all on the day of the shooting" A—"I couldn't say."

Q—"Did you notify the safety director of the shooting?" A "Seems to me I talked to him as he came to work I don't say for sure" The chief read a release from blame for Mr DeWees was taken from Garey in his presence

Mr Wilhelm opened cross examination of the chief by asking

"This Durbin case was one of the cases on which you were suspended, wasn't it?" A—"Yes"

Q—"Did Captain Mackan put the report in at that time or did he just testify?" A—"I think he testified."

Q—"For the safety director who had ordered you removed?" A—"Yes"

Q—"Those charges against you weren't sustained?" A—"No"

Q—"You were returned to work and received a year's pay for the time you were off?" A—"Yes"

Q—"Following that case in June 1934, in August, 1934, DeWees was appointed acting captain wasn't he during the reign of Captain Mackan as chief?" A—"I think so."

Q—"You know that following that appointment of Mackan as chief, DeWees took the examination for captain?" A—"Yes"

Q—"And served a probationary 90-day period in the capacity of acting captain?" A—"Yes"

Q—"And following that time was appointed permanent captain by the safety director?" A—"Yes."

Q—"And was told his services were satisfactory?" A—"Yes"

Q—"After the Durbin case he was appointed captain permanently?" A—"He was"

Ryan and Miley Cases

The chief told Mr Wilhelm he didn't know the present whereabouts of Ryan

Q—"Did you know that the following morning in municipal court Ryan pleaded guilty to resisting an officer and intoxication and was fined $25 and costs?" A—"Yes"

Q—"This report on this Miley was not made to you, but to Mackan, wasn't it?" A—"Yes, I wasn't there at that time."

Q—"With reference to the Garey warrant, isn't it a standing order in the police department that all warrants which are placed on the phone box or hook when the night men come on are for them to serve?" Mr. Wilhelm asked A—"All unserved warrants are there for anybody to check up on and if they see them to bring them in."

Q—"If the Garey warrant was there, it was his duty to serve it?" A—"Yes"

DeWees Record Reviewed

Mr. Wilhelm turned to DeWees activity in the department

Q—"DeWees as captain was quite active in the investigation of the case where 35 house burglaries were solved?" A—"Yes, he helped."

Q—"That brought an editorial commending the work of the police department?" A—"Yes"

Q—"And Captain DeWees almost alone made the investigation in the Cyre Bennett case?" A—"Yes, sir."

Q—"In police words, he 'broke' the Bennett case?" A—"Yes"

Q—"That brought two more personal editorials on DeWees in the newspaper didn't it?" A—"I don't know whether it was two, but there were some."

Q—"As a matter of fact, DeWees conducted the greater part of the private investigating for the prosecuting attorney" A—"Quite a bit."

Q—"A great part for the city solicitor, didn't he?" A—"Yes."

Q—"Have you ever known DeWees as captain or sergeant to be neglectful of his duty?" A—"Not that I can say so, no"

Q—"As a matter of fact he was always ready, willing and able to work, not only during assigned hours but off duty as well?" A—"He was a willing worker."

Q—"Do you now consider him inefficient in any way?" A—"He was always a good worker.

Q—"He was a competent captain wasn't he?" A—"Yes."

The chief repeated for Mr. Wilhelm that present at the Garey case investigation at the City hospital were himself, the city solicitor, prosecuting attorney, DeWees, Tong, Axthelm, Hedges, Dwight Carhart and Garey.

Q—"The prosecuting attorney then investigated it and was there" A—"The prosecuting attorney was a little late getting there"

Q "He was there during most of it, wasn't he" A—He got there just as we left"

"Did anyone, to your knowledge ever at any time file any charges against Mr DeWees in connection with this case?" Mr Wilhelm asked A—"No"

Q "The grand jury reported yesterday?" A—"Yes"

Q—"Did it return any charge against DeWees?" A—"No"

Questioned again by Mr Patton, the chief said he remembered Mr DeWees testifying against him in the Durbin case, "but I don't remember the points

Q—"He didn't testify for you?" A—I don't believe so

Regarding a policeman's efficiency and the shooting, the chief said, "Barring something like accidents I should say so," to Patton's question that if a life was taken unnecessarily or unlawfully, the policeman was not a good police officer

Q—"What was your determination of the shooting after you made your investigation" Patton asked A—On the advice of the city solicitor I didn't file any charges until it went up on investigation to turn it over to the safety director and the mayor."

Q—"It was turned over to the safety director after you had made your investigation?" A—"Yes."

Revolver Shown

Mr Patton then talked with the chief about revolvers used by members of the department, particularly Mr. DeWees, and the chief displayed the department revolver which was given to Mr DeWees The chief said generally Mr. DeWees carried an engraved pearl handled revolver instead of the gun furnished by the department. Asked if any other policemen carry their own guns, Chief Marks said Jim Shrock, a former member of the department, "carried a .45 most of the time" The chief said the length of barrel might increase the range slightly, and to a question by Mr Wilhelm he said, "A good deal depends on the man."

"As a matter of fact," Wilhelm continued, "what difference does it make what kind he carried?" A—"It should be a good gun."

Q—"You carry, some times, two revolvers, don't you?" A—"I have."

Q—"The city didn't issue you two?" A—"No"

The next three witnesses called were George E. Goodspeed, his son, Charles, both of 335 Holmes place, and Miss McClure All three were among a group of persons sitting on the front porch of the Goodspeed home at the time Loren Durbin escaped from the police station while Mr. DeWees was reading the warrant to him George Goodspeed testified he saw a man run down Holmes place toward his house, turn in between two buildings and run south. Several men were in pursuit, he said, and the one in front (previously identified as Mr DeWees) fired a shot.

All three witnesses testified the bullet struck the side of the double porch opposite to the end on which the group was seated, penetrated a board passed across the east half of the double porch and lodged in a partition separating the two porches joined together on the front of a double house Charles Goodspeed testified that if the bullet had gone through the partition it would have struck him in the back as he sat in a rocking chair. All three witnesses testified, in answer to Mr Patton's questions, that they were frightened by the happening, that children were playing around the house at the time and that the shot was fired without any warning to them Mr. Wilhelm did not cross examine any of the three

Mrs. Boyd's Testimony

Mrs. Laura Boyd of 333 Toledo avenue, the next witness, testified she was in the women's compartment of city prison on Feb 2, 1936 when Jimmy Ryan, intoxicated was brought into the station and "booked" She said she watched the proceedings through a small hole in the wall of the woman's compartment, saw and heard Mr DeWees ask Ryan his name and saw him strike Ryan in the face twice when he (Ryan) failed to answer When Ryan said, "You know who I am," Mr DeWees struck two or three more times she asserted.

Mrs Boyd continued, "I called to Mr. DeWees, told him that was no way to act and I called him a bad name. She said she saw Ryan in court next day and he had a black eye and a cut over his eye. She said some one plugged the peephole in the wall of the woman's compartment after she had called to Mr DeWees.

"Did it remain plugged?" Mr Patton asked. "No, I asked Captain Mackan to open it again next day and he did."

On cross examination, Mr Wilhelm asked Mrs Boyd to tell the commission the name she called Mr DeWees. She did During cross examination she said she called through the wall of the women's compartment the next day for Major F C Smith, planning to tell him about what had happened to Ryan, "but he wouldn't come in."

"You knew all the bootleggers in Marion, didn't you?" Mr Wilhelm asked "Maybe you did, too" she answered

"Well, you know about all of them, didn't you?" he continued "No, not about all of them, either she said.

"Do you remember paying a $300 liquor fine in 1933, later the same year a fine for intoxication and still later a $100 fine for selling liquor?" Mrs. Boyd said she remembered. "Mr DeWees was on those raids against you wasn't he?" Wilhelm asked. "I don't remember," she said. "He arrested Eugs McClung at your house didn't he?" Mr. Wilhelm said "Yes—for selling liquor" Mrs. Boyd asserted that "I have no hard feelings against Mr. DeWees" when Mr. Wilhelm asked if it wouldn't be natural for her to dislike him

Patrolman On Stand

Patrolman Kirts, next on the stand, was asked by Mr Patton about his part in the arrest of Paul Miley at a doctor's office He related he and Cunningham went to the doctor's office, took Miley in custody and called for Mr DeWees to bring the car up to get them Miley, he said, was drunk and cursed the two policemen repeatedly. "He told us if we'd take our badges off he'd whip both of us," the patrolman said When the car came, Kirts said he put Miley in the back seat and got in with him while Patrolman Cunningham and Mr. DeWees rode in front. "As we turned from Prospect street into Mill street on the way to the station Miley turned in the seat, doubled up his fist and drew back as though to hit me I hit him first. He kept on coming and beat me over in my side of the seat and was on top of me, beating with both hands."

"You couldn't handle him?" Mr Patton asked. "No," the patrolman answered

He said Mr. DeWees stopped the automobile, opened the rear door on Miley's side of the car and hit him twice over the head with a blackjack. Miley, he continued, turned on Mr. DeWees and the latter struck again with the blackjack. Miley then was put in handcuffs and taken on to the station where he was still "awfully noisy," the patrolman said.

"Did you think it was necessary to beat him with a blackjack when there were three policemen in the car?" Mr. Patton asked "Yes," Patrolman Kirts answered. "Don't you think he could have been handled without using a blackjack?" Mr. Patton inquired. "It might have been done, but we probably would have gotten black eyes—he was a bad customer."

Tells of Roast

On cross examination, Mr Wilhelm brought out some of the profane names Miley had called the policemen in front of a small crowd that gathered on the street and of threats Miley made "Yet he wasn't struck until he assaulted a uniformed officer, was he?" Mr Wilhelm asked. "No," Mr. Kirts said The patrolman, in answer to further questions, said Miley boasted of having been "quite a fighter" Mr Kirts said he washed the blood off his (Kirts') face while Miley was being booked. "Whose blood was it—yours or Miley's?" Mr Wilhelm asked. "Mine."

"Did you then and do you now think it was necessary for Mr DeWees to use the blackjack on Miley?" Mr. Wilhelm asked "Yes, the patrolman answered

"During the time you have served under Mr. DeWees as captain, was he ever inefficient or neglectful of duty, to your knowledge?" Mr Wilhelm asked "No"

"You regard him as an able and competent captain of police don't you?" "Yes."

Mr Patton—"Miley was drunk when he was arrested, beaten and taken to police station, wasn't he?" "Yes"

Mr. Wilhelm—"But not so drunk that it handicapped him in his attack on the officers?" 'No.'

Patrolman Cunningham the next witness, testified he was on his second day of work in the police department when he accompanied Mr Kirts on the Miley call His account of what happened tallied with that of Mr. Kirts, but he added a happening that took place a the police station while Miley was being booked and while Mr Kirs was out of the room "Miley, still handcuffed, swung around while he was being booked as though to strike Mr DeWees,' he said. "DeWees punched him twice in the ribs with his fist."

"What was his condition?" Mr Patton asked. "He was bleeding from the nose and two places on the head where he had been hit with a blackjack," the patrolman answered.

Mr Cunningham's cross examination testimony was virtually the same as Mr Kirts', with the addition of brief testimony about arresting Warren Walden Garey in front of a Silver street beer parlor on one occasion before Garey was wounded as he attempted to escape from Mr. DeWees. He said Garey drew a knife when he attempted to arrest him and that "I grabbed his hand to keep him from cutting me." Mr. Patton inserted a question: "Did you report that incident to the chief?" The patrolman answered "No, the knife wasn't open"

Sergeant Hardin, who "testified next, said he "booked" both Ryan and Miley when they were taken into custody by police. He said he did not remember Ryan having been struck by police when he was booked. He testified Miley was bleeding about the face when he was booked and told of Mr DeWees punching Miley in the ribs when he swung around as if to strike Mr DeWees 'Mr DeWees asked him if he'd had enough, and Miley answered 'no' Mr Hardin said He added that no further blows were struck at that time

On cross examination by Mr Wilhelm Mr Hardin told of later going to the city prison cell with Dr M M Weinbaum who was to treat Miley's injuries. "Miley asked me for a cigaret and I gave him one and held the match to light it for him He sat there, puffed a little bit and then started as if to attack me I drew my blackjack, but the doctor took hold of him and quieted him"

Mr Hardin testified like the other policemen as to his belief that Mr DeWees was an able and competent police captain and that he knew of no occasion on which he had been neglectful or inefficient.

The last witness to testify last night was Patrolman Underhill, who told of arresting Ryan at the LaMar restaurant on Feb. 2, 1936 for intoxication and raising a disturbance He said "I took him to a booth and called for a police car. While I was trying to use the phone he kept bothering me and trying to get out I slapped him—with my open hand He kept on fussing and when we got to the station I struck him right hard with my club when he went on to the counter as I tried to take him back to his cell"

Handed a photograph of Ryan, Mr Underhill was asked by Mr Patton to point out bruises and cuts on his face. Mr Underhill said "there were marks on his lip and one above one eye "Did you cause that disfigurement?" he was asked "I can't say that I did or that I didn't—he might have struck his head on the shelf at the station but I'm not sure"

Mr. Wilhelm, on cross examination, said, Laura Boyd said DeWees struck Ryan in the face while he was being booked at police station Do you know anything about that?" The patrolman answered. "No."

Mr. Patton asked about instructions of policemen regarding the use of force and the patrolman said, "I think the rules call for as little force as necessary."

"A policeman who took a human life illegally or unnecessarily would not be a good policeman, would he?" Mr Patton asked "No," he answered. He answered yes when Mr. Wilhelm asked him if in his opinion Mr. DeWees had been an able and competent police captain and said he knew of no occasion when Mr DeWees was neglectful of duty or inefficient"

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

ANTIES AND VERSATILE SLIP PROVE INDISPENSABLE

It's your "undies" that tell your ultimate fashion-story these days, for unless you wear a well-fitting slip and panties, your prettiest frocks won't look their best! Stitch up Pattern 4456 if you yearn for a smooth silhouette! You'll be so pleased with the "easy making" of this important pair, that you'll make more than one version — for street, afternoon (not illustrated) and evening lengths! Built-up shoulders eliminate that old nuisance — falling shoulder straps — while the panties are distinguished by a reinforced crotch. Ideal in cotton, silk, satin, or synthetic.

Pattern 4456 is available in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes 3⅞ yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send Fifteen Cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number.

Our New Fall and Winter Anne Adams Pattern Book just off the press! Order at once! Here are the "makings" of smart new frocks, a dashing new coat or suit, "career-girl" clothes—"at home" styles. Debs, Kiddies, Juniors!...a School Portfolio just for You, complete with campus-to-kindergarten styles, all easy-to-sew. Newest Fabrics! Accessories! Budget gifts. Chic for the matron, too. Book Fifteen Cents. Pattern Fifteen Cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

Send your order to The Marion Star, Pattern Department, 243 W. 17th St., New York, N. Y.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, Sept. 18

Very propitious conditions prevail on this day, according to the strong position of the "major benefic" by mutual aspect to the planet bearing rule over business, trade transactions and particularly over all pertaining to writing, publishing, advertising and promotional enterprises. New and very lucrative contracts and agreements are encouraged, and even speculation and all affairs of chance or hazard. Friendships thrive, especially with the young.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a flourishing year in business as well as in personal lines, especially those in literary writings, advertising, publicity and promotion picture. It is a propitious time for renewing contracts and agreements, with improvement of popularity and financial interest bearing influences. Speculative and hazardous ventures, such as sports and games likewise may prove profitable.

A child born on this day may be very dependable and ambitious, with marked talents in connection with writing or publicity. Its friendly, kindly and sympathetic nature will be a contributing factor to its success.

Produced 161,642,000 pounds of rayon in the first six months of this year, compared with 140,000,000 pounds in the same period last year, and expects to be the world's leading producer

NOTICE OF HEARING
Marion No. 3—Alternate (Clerk of Sales Legal Copy
No. 37-309)

Columbus, O., Sept. 14, 1937.

The Director of Highways of Ohio will hold a public hearing at 1 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time, on Thursday, October 7, 1937, at the Marion County Court House in Marion, Ohio, for the purpose of hearing arguments for and against the proposed addition to the state highway system of an alternate route on a portion of the Morral-Kirkpatrick-East Road, located in Marion and Morrow Counties and being more definitely described as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of Marion County Highway No. 47 (Morral-Kirkpatrick-East Road) and Marion County Highway No. 171 on the line between Sections 21 and 15 of Tully Township, Marion County; thence north on Marion County Highway No. 171 approximately 0.3 mile in Section 15, Tully Township, to the junction with Marion County Highway No. 132; thence east on Marion County Highway No. 132, approximately 2.89 miles, through Sections 14, 13, 18 and 17 of Tully Township to the Marion-Morrow County Line; thence continuing east on a Morrow County Highway on the line between Sections 16 and 15, 21 and 14, 12 and 13 of Washington Township, Morrow County, approximately 2.3 miles to the junction with US Route 23-S and State Route 61 (S. R. 229) and there terminate, being a total distance of approximately 5.5 miles.

JOHN JASTER, JR.,
Director of Highways of Ohio.

CARRIERS LEAD STOCK SLUMP

Declines of Three Points Reduced Slightly as Pressure Eases.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—Rallying rail stocks of yesterday's market went into reverse today and many leaders skidded for declines running to three points or so at the worst.

Few issues were able to get ahead, although extreme losses were reduced somewhat around noon.

On the losing side were shares of New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Pullman, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Shee & Tube, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, J. I. Case, Deere, Oliver Farm, Anaconda, Kennecott, Cerro De Pasco, American Smelting, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, Public Service of New Jersey, du Pont, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Allis Chalmers, Loew's and Commercial Investment Trust.

American Shipbuilding and Columbia Broadcasting pushed up on favorable earnings statements. Resistant were Radio Corp., Barnsdall, Boeing, Macy, Coca-Cola ad International Paper & Power preferred.

Steels reflected opinions in this field a fall of around six points in the current mill operating rate of 80 per cent capacity is likely over the next three weeks, although a pickup was expected later.

Wool Market

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Sept. 17—Wool sales were small and scattered in the Boston market today. Neither mill nor topmakers bought sizable quantities.

Buyers continued to make low bids but these have not secured any large quantities of wool, according to reports from holders and buyers.

Odd lots of good French combing fine territory wools in original bags were available occasionally at 90 cents, scoured basis. The bulk of supplies were held at 92 to 95 cents with owners making little effort to sell.

CORN FALLS 5 CENTS FROM RECENT HIGH

Reaction Attributed to Delivery of Small Lot on September Contracts.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 17—Sudden late tumbles of September corn quotations today took the market down 5¼ cents from a maximum rise of 6⅝ cents to new high price records for the season.

The reaction followed delivery of a small lot of corn on September contracts.

At the close, corn was varying from two cents lower to 3¼ cents higher compared with yesterday's finish, Sept. 1.12¼@1.13¼, Dec. 62¼@63, wheat one cent to 1⅝ up, Sept. 1.03@⅝, Dec. 1.04⅝@⅞, and oats ¼ advanced.

CITY, COUNTY SHARE IN SCHOOL FUNDS

Districts in Counties Near Here Also Receive Money from State.

Marion county received $29,739 and Marion city $48,182 of the $11,297,377 distributed today to county, city and exempted village school districts by the state department of education, The Associated Press reported.

The distribution of checks to counties included the following: Crawford, $36,361; Delaware, $42,294; Hardin, $33,540; Morrow, $38,982; Union, $30,786; Wyandot, $21,208. City distributions included Bucyrus, $13,236; Galion, $16,406; Kenton, $17,469.

Among exempted villages, distributions included Carey, $5,549; Crestline, $8,884; Upper Sandusky $7,759.

Of the total counties will receive $4,965,251; exempted villages $675,175 and cities $5,936,951.

All notes issued by the school districts on authority of the department of education will be paid by this cash distribution except the $12,000,000 authorization made within the last few weeks.

BURGLARY EFFORT AT STORE FAILS

An attempted break-in at the Brown second hand store at 300 West Center street last night was reported to police. Officers who investigated found a window in a rear door had been broken out but that the intruders were thwarted by steel bars placed across the inside of the opening. Apparently entrance was not made into the building and nothing was reported missing. The store is operated by Harry D. Brown.

RUNAWAYS RETURNED

Two boys who fled from the Junior Order home at Tiffin last week and were apprehended here Saturday night by C. & O. railroad detectives have been returned, juvenile court officials said today. The boys were caught after they rode into town on a freight car. They had been held at the detention home. Officials of the home came here for them.

ARREST THREE IN STOLEN CAR

Pennsylvania Trio Held Here Pending Arrival of Federal Authorities.

Three Pennsylvania men, arrested last night near the Marion Union Stockyards on West Center street by highway patrolmen, are being held at the county jail this morning for federal authorities in connection with the theft of an automobile at Terre Haute, Ind.

The trio, Joseph Marvin, 23, of West Aliquippa, William Kinzek, 19, of Aliquippa, and William Lawson, 41, of Sunbury, all in Pennsylvania, were taken into custody by patrolmen following a report from a night watchman of three suspicious persons in an automobile near the stockyards. They were arrested shortly after 8 p. m., and all confessed having a part in the theft of the automobile they were occupying at the time, highway patrolmen said.

No Resistance

One of the trio was armed with a .32 calibre revolver, but the men offered no resistance when they were surprised while sleeping in the parked automobile, patrolmen said. They told officers of having gone several days and nights without sleep and said they had stopped to rest, enroute to Pennsylvania. The men said they had taken the car to return home from a "bumming" trip and they planned to abandon it later, officers reported.

Patrolman received the first report of the parked car from Donald Weston, 23, of 375 Fahey street, who is night watchman at the Marion Union Stockyards. Weston reported that he saw the car parked on the stockyard grounds at the north side of Center street, only a short time before he called the patrol station at 8 o'clock. He said he approached the car and attempted to talk with the men, but that they were reluctant to carry on a conversation and tried to conceal their faces while he stood near the car.

Found Locked In

He telephoned the patrol substation and Corporal H. W. Sowers and Patrolman D. L. Callentine went to the scene. The officers approached the car from opposite sides and after throwing their flashlights on the occupants, ordered them to open the automobile and get out. The men had locked themselves in the car and at first were slow to obey the orders of the patrolmen.

They were taken to the patrol station for questioning. All three made signed statements admitting their part in the automobile theft at Terre Haute, Ind., which they said occurred Tuesday night, Corporal Sowers reported. They said after taking the car they started eastward and in Danville, Ind., took a set of Illinois license plates from a parked car. The Illinois plates, patrolmen said, were on the car when the men were arrested.

Patrolmen immediately notified authorities in Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania to assist in tracking down further details in connection with the stolen car and on the records of the men. Corporal Sowers said federal agents in Cleveland also were notified and that they were expected to come here either late today or Saturday to take the trio into custody. Federal authorities will probably hold the trio on charges of transporting a stolen car across a state line, Corporal Sowers said.

What To Do-

If You Want To Shave Without Torture

1. Wash your face thoroughly for half a minute with soap and hot water, then rinse. If you use latherless cream, apply it on top of the soap.

2. If you use shaving soap, work into the skin with brush and finger tips a liberal portion of a brand that lathers freely.

3. Let the lather stand for at least two minutes to soften the hairs.

4. Wet your razor and keep it wet.

5. Shave the easiest parts first—the upper part of the face has fewer hairs to the square inch.

6. Stretch the skin but not too tight or you'll scrape off surface flesh.

7. Always shave with the grain or direction in which the hairs lie naturally. Don't dig, jab or press the razor.

8. Keep the blade at an angle of 20 to 25 degrees if your skin's tender; 28 to 32 if it's average.

9. When finished, rinse your face, pat on lotion and talcum powder.

Thirty-one men—20 blonds and 11 brunets—were the "guinea pigs." Some shaved daily, others irregularly; some used dull razors or softened their stubble with plain hot water instead of soap.

CALEDONIA LODGE MEMBERS MEET

Special to The Star

CALEDONIA, Sept. 17—A good attendance was present at the meeting of Deborah Rebekah lodge Wednesday night. Deputy president, Mrs. Flo Coen, installed Miss Edith Ward, left support to the vice grand. Mrs. Hazel Baird acted as marshal. October 6 was the date set for the annual inspection. Mrs. Mary Sanford of Marseilles will be the inspecting officer. Special practice was announced for the degree staff for Monday, Sept. 20.

Plans were made for the Rebekah Friendship circle to meet Sept. 28 at the home of Mrs. Dora Winch with Mrs. Myrtle Snyder and Mrs. Dessie Hipsher, assistant hostesses. Beginning the first meeting in October lodge will open at 7:30. The following program celebrating the 88th anniversary of the Rebekah degree in charge of Mrs. John Jelliffe was opened by singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds;" Miss Wanda Geddis offered prayer; Miss Mary Brockleaby contributed two numbers on her Hawaiian guitar; piano solo, Miss Ardis Douce; vocal solo, "Get ourself a Broom and Sweep our Troubles Away" by Mrs. John Jelliffe; reading, "Mose Telephones" by Miss Adis Douce. Refreshments were served by social committee with Mrs. M. V. Douce, chairman.

PASTOR'S RELEASE OKAYED AT IBERIA

Special to The Star

IBERIA, Sept. 17—Following the worship hour last Sunday the congregation of the Federated church voted to acquiesce with Rev. E. H. Thompson in his request to the Mansfield Presbytery for his release from the pastorate of the Iberia church. It is expected that the resignation will take effect the last Sunday in October, thus making the length of his pastorate exactly six years.

With Mix Circus Tomorrow

Tom Mix and his three-ring circus will arrive in Marion from Canton Saturday at 6 a. m. for performances at 2 and 8 p. m. at the Drake lot on East Fairground street.

Free acts on the grounds will be features at 12 noon and 6 p. m. The doors will open for the matinee at 1 p. m. and 7 p. m.

As soon as the circus arrives hundreds of workers will start transforming the field into a tented city.

Promptly at 2 and 8 o'clock Tom Mix will lead the grand entry, followed by some 700 performers, including the Hannaford Family of bareback riders starring George Hannaford, internationally famous riding clown; the Flying Arbaughs starring Jimmy Arbaugh, triple somersault artist of the high trapeze; Ray Goody, performing on the tight wire; Irma Ward, billed as the world's champion woman aerialist; Max Gruber, European wild animal trainer and his new "Oddities of the Jungle"; John Agee, veteran equestrian and his three rings of trained horses; performing elephants; the Bell Troup of acrobatic performers; 30 clowns and hundreds of acrobats, gymnasts, aerialists and equestrians.

Mix will appear throughout the program with his own horses and in exploits of shooting and roping. He will bring with him a company of cowboys and cowgirls from his TM Bar ranch to add to the balance of the two and a half hour presentation.

DEADLINE NEAR IN WRITING CONTEST

Adults of the city and county who may be preparing manuscripts for the creative play-writing contest sponsored by the U. S. Constitution sesquicentennial commission were advised again today by Miss Margaret Haberman, of North State street, state chairman, that Sept. 26 is the deadline for entering.

The manuscripts must be received by the commission not later than that date, and should be addressed to Sol Bloom, director general, attention drama division, U. S. Constitution sesquicentennial commission, Washington, D. C., and should bear the sender's return address.

Miss Haberman said she has received no notice that any Marion county residents have entered the contest, which is being carried on throughout the nation.

Anthrax.

At one time anthrax was a disease which worried all the farmers in Europe. It was a strange ailment which destroyed thousands and thousands of sheep and other domestic animals.

Of course, 50 years ago little was known as to the cause of this plague. All that was understood was that it frequently ruined the prosperous farmers and too often infected human beings. It remained for the illustrious and brilliant scientist, Robert Koch, to discover the actual cause of anthrax.

Koch, as you probably know, was also the discoverer of the tubercle bacillus, the germ which causes tuberculosis. Mankind is deeply indebted to this scientist who contributed so much for the protection of health and life. He was the scientist who first pointed out that every disease, every infectious disease certainly, has its own specific microbe, and that such diseases can only be controlled by finding the individual microbes.

For many years anthrax continued to be a menace. It was commonly known as "wool-sorters" disease because it was frequently found in butchers, veterinarians and farm laborers, as well as other persons having contact with cattle. It was prevalent among workers in various trades where wool, hair or similar substances are used.

This disease is caused by an agent known as the "bacillus anthracis." This germ with the big name thrives in diseased animals and is easily transmitted to mankind by contact with a diseased beast or carcass. Occasionally the infection is carried to man by breathing contaminated air into the lungs or by absorption through the digestive organs.

Today the disease is rare and seldom encountered even in those industries where it used to be common. This advance was made possible by our increased knowledge of the disease and the enforcement of necessary measures to prevent it.

For example, it is now customary for employes in leather tanneries, hair or wool factories, to wear rubber gloves and rubber aprons while at work. Should the germs of anthrax be present they will be protected from contact with it. In addition, adequate ventilation is provided to dispose of the dust from the hair and wool. In this way the disease has been almost completely eradicated.

All infected animals must be kept by themselves and destroyed. The disease is kept under control by periodic inspection of cattle. The purchaser of articles containing bristles or wool is guarded against the disease by rigid sterilization which destroys the germ.

Of course, the disease still crops up in certain portions of the country, but when it does it is quickly controlled. The occurrence of anthrax in any community can be traced to the failure of taking the necessary measures to guard against it. We have progressed in rapid strides since the day Robert Koch first saw the "bacillus anthracis" under a crude microscope.

In Ohio History

A FORMER HOMER

There is a village named Homer in Licking county but an earlier settlement of that name flourished and faded long ago near the border of Union and Champaign counties.

William H. Smith, once Ohio's secretary of state, knew it as his boyhood home. When the Smiths came to Homer from New England, the town was thriving with a saw mill, general store, woolen mill, carding mill, spinning jenny and furniture factory. Smith's father added a carriage and wagon shop—the first of its kind in that section.

Something caused the disintegration of the town. Buildings were abandoned and the town lots gradually merged into the farms from which they originally were divided.

Pressed metal bath tubs, sinks and other plumbing fixtures have been developed that weigh only one-third as much as cast metal fixtures.

Too Late.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT was more serious than usual at the press conference following publication of evidence that Hugo L. Black, newly appointed supreme court justice, was and still is a member of the Ku Klux Klan. He had good reason to be serious.

There are a few errors no politician can afford to make. One of them is to alienate an important minority by an appearance of bigotry. Mr. Roosevelt has made that error.

He can explain he did not know Mr. Black was a Klansman; he should have made it his business to find out. Mr Black can deny that he is a Klansman; that won't cleanse him of the klan taint common on elected officials from the south. The klan can explain it doesn't know Mr. Black; that merely would be funny. Explanations won't explain anything, except that a mistake was made.

The victims of Ku Klux Klan bigotry still will wonder why the new deal was more important than their religious and racial rights when a supreme court justice was being chosen.

If it be true that Mr. Black's appointment was the result of a presidential scheme to outwit the senate, Mr. Roosevelt may be wondering seriously whether he outwitted himself by making it too easy, instead of too hard, for senators to vote confirmation.

Naval Bluff.

AN INTERNATIONAL police force starts to patrol the Mediterranean and the government of the United States takes steps to avert any untoward incident off China by withdrawing its protection from privately owned ships carrying munitions. The game of naval bluff is becoming tense.

The United States and Great Britain are in a strange position. They possess the world's largest navies. Together, they are capable of making a stronger show of force than any other combination. But in the present crisis, they are not together. The United States is not engaging in the Mediterranean patrol; Great Britain is lying low in the Pacific.

Consequently, it is made to appear that Japan and Italy are getting further with their part of the naval bluff than either of the two powers superior to them in naval strength. This is an unnatural situation, contradictory to all expectations of what would happen in the post-war struggle for naval power.

It is, therefore, a situation which can not be regarded as permanent. The prestige of the world's two greatest naval powers is at stake. It would be foolish to assume that the condition of the moment will endure for a longer time than is required to discover a different way to deal with it.

The Worst Part.

ADVANTAGES of the Ohio drivers' license law have been pretty well gone over by this time. The law is helping in several ways to instill a stronger sense of responsibility where it will do the most good—in the mind of the man behind the wheel.

Naturally, there are disadvantages, too, and the principal one is now getting attention. It is the necessity of obtaining new licenses once a year. Licenses expire Oct. 1.

This is going to have to be done every year with the same repetitious monotony as buying new license plates. Because the public still isn't used to the idea, it will have to be coaxed, wheedled, cajoled and threatened, to get it shoved under the deadline. It will be as bad as the old days when getting the state equipped with new license plates was an ordeal that lasted from the day before New Year's to the sprouting of grass.

This is easily the worst part of the drivers' license law. It's one more complication to be dealt with—one of an increasing number which can't be put off past a certain day.

Alcoholism.

THE conclusion of the WPA backed study of alcoholism in Boston City hospital, that it has become a "chronic emergency," will get wide attention. It would be well for both schools of extremists, however, to note carefully that the researchers, two members of Harvard Medical school staff, found that alcoholism increased during the prohibition period, too, though not so rapidly as it increased after repeal.

Perhaps the most far reaching value of such a study is the answer it furnishes to a question that has stuck every generation since Cain and Abel's. "Am I my brother's keeper?" asked anti-prohibitionists when the nation was struggling with the issue posed by the 18th amendment.

They were looking for a direct answer, which they never found. For if one thing is plain it is the fact that alcohol is a constant social responsibility. Prohibition—a noble experiment—assumed there was a conclusive solution to the problem of intoxicants. Repeal assumed that prohibition did not—could not—be successful.

But alcohol is still a social responsibility. Those who use it to excess are a public charge. They must be kept by their brothers after they have ruined themselves, even though their brothers were unable to devise a way to keep them from harm.

150 Years Old Today

Born of Strife, Sustained by Strife, in Midst of Strife Now U. S. Constitution is World's Oldest Instrument of Government.

THE well organized program for prodding the public into livelier regard for the Constitution on the 150th anniversary of its signing has been only partially successful. The Constitution continues to be something that Americans take for granted, except when they're fighting about it.

True, there will be ceremonies today in many parts of the country. During this week hundreds of thousands of words have been written and spoken about the document created during the summer of 1787 and made official Sept. 17 by the signatures of its framers.

Today, the President of the United States will make a public address in observance of the occasion. Probably nothing could illustrate more vividly than Mr. Roosevelt's speech why the Constitution's 150th year of continuous service is a genuinely great occasion.

For the President is expected to continue his bitter criticism of constitutional law, insofar as it has been an obstacle to him. He will be waging a fight which has surged back and forth over constitutional territory for a century and a half.

IF one characteristic of the Constitution is more pronounced than any other it is the political strife it has caused. Indeed, the document was created out of strife in the first place. There is strife in every word of its text. There has been strife in every interpretation of its meaning. Strife, it might be said, is what distinguishes democracy from autocracy. Where the many rule, there are constant differences of opinion. Where the few rule, differences of opinions simply don't occur.

It was a mighty difference of opinion which made the Constitution necessary. Long before the Revolutionary war was over, it was clear that a federation of states without a strong government to regulate their joint affairs was an experiment in political futility—clear to some, that is. Others were insistent on preventing development of a central power—the still lively issue of states' rights. There was no agreement on this point in 1787, there is none today.

The welding of a nation was the task set for the constitutional convention—by the handful of statesmen who realized that union was essential. Others, who also called themselves statesmen, did everything in their power to prevent union. Had it not been for a few men willing to work tirelessly for what they knew was right, there would have been no Constitution, no union, and the country today would have been divided among the old world powers, as Africa is divided.

AS IT was, the final draft of the Constitution was the product of compromise. A few men had risen to great heights; they had fulfilled their vision of a new government by swapping horses with men who had the instincts of horse traders. Thus was the Constitution of the United States created.

Its enemies, even some of its friends, looked at it sourly. Immediate attack was forthcoming over the issue of a bill of rights. The first congress was obliged to add 10 articles of amendment to the document two years after it had been submitted. That was the first demonstration of the document's flexibility.

But national integration was by no means assured. The Constitution was, at best, no more than the description of a great idea. At its worst, which was the way many early Americans looked at it, the document was a piece of paper which threatened their self interest.

Even an outline of constitutional history is a bulky volume, but it is astonishingly accurate to say that the import of the whole tremendous story can be summed up in one short sentence: The United States learns how to govern itself.

The momentous thing is that it's still learning. It has made some of the ghastliest mistakes imaginable. It has let blood and wreaked havoc in its agonies of experience. There has not been a single moment when an American could say, "At last, it is done."

SOMEHOW, the union and the Constitution which is its symbol have survived. Today, the Constitution is the most venerable instrument of government in existence.

Today in Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 — The 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution is a day of sadness, not of joy. For in this very year when it might be presumed that America could sing the praises of its great charter of liberty, there is a well-defined, deliberate effort to destroy constitutional government in the United States.

Participants in the effort are a group of persons who call themselves "liberals," persons who for months have waged a campaign against the "sacredness" of the Constitution, persons in official life and outside of it, who may not admit it but who are more extremely reactionary than the Fascists of Europe and more intolerant than the Tories whom they so glibly condemn.

The President of the United States, who took an oath twice to preserve, to protect and defend the Constitution, has in this year 1937 repudiated the very fundamental principle on which the Constitution is based, namely that the people, in specific and definitely prescribed ways, shall have the opportunity to alter their Constitution. Instead, Mr. Roosevelt has proclaimed the new doctrine that the process of amendment is too cumbersome and hence that amendment must come by a supreme court controlled by the executive. On that court he now has placed his first appointee, a man who joined a secret order of un-American purpose.

It is true the senate of the United States defeated the proposal to pack the supreme court, but it is true also that Mr. Roosevelt does not acknowledge defeat and has indicated his intention of reviving the issue, whilst his henchmen make ready to use the federal government machinery in 1938 to punish politically the independent Democrats who dared to thwart the will of the President.

Start of Campaign

The insidious campaign against the Constitution began some years ago among a small group of so-called intellectuals in our colleges who declared that the Constitution was the bulwark of the rich. They conveniently forgot the many more instances in which the supreme court has saved the poor and the instances in which the court has saved the oppressed minorities from the persecution of the intolerant and bigoted majorities, especially in the matter of state legislation.

This undermining of the prestige of the supreme court has been carried on with aggressiveness among certain professors of constitutional law, but its destructive purpose was carried out with even more telling effect by the "smear" group in Washington, inspired by the Roosevelt administration, who have been publicly muckraking the justices and giving the people an impression that the supreme court members lack integrity.

Such a bitter attack was made only recently in a radio speech, with the tacit approval of the White House, by Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania, Democrat. These attacks have, to be sure, produced their own boomerang. Democrats as well as Republicans in all parts of the country who know what it means to the constitutional life of America to have popular respect for the courts, have resented the campaign of personalities. Today the Roosevelt administration is revealed, moreover, as having so little consideration for the importance of the supreme court as to insist upon confirmation of a man publicly charged in the senate with membership in a secret order which discriminates against Catholics, Jews, Negroes and foreign born.

Mr. Roosevelt had ample opportunity to play fair with the American people when he read the headlines of the newspapers charging Senator Black with being a member of the Ku Klux Klan. The Washington Star here printed a seven-column headline on the first page of its editions of Aug. 17, reading "fight on Black confirmation rages in senate on Klan issue."

Had Ample Warning

The President sees the papers. If he doesn't, he certainly has some members of his staff who do. They read also the official proceedings of the congress of the United States, known as "the congressional record."

While the nomination was still pending and the senate had not yet confirmed it, the Klan issue was raised. It ill behooves the White House or any members of the senate now to say they didn't know about the Klan issue. They did know. And it will take a lot of explaining to convince anybody who was in Washington last month that the President was unaware of what was going on in the senate. Then was the time to investigate and find out whether a member of the Klan had been nominated for the supreme court bench to hear cases involving interpretation of the Constitution.

The bill of rights was written to protect minorities against the excesses of majorities. The Constitution was designed to prevent a President from usurping the power of the courts by attempting to influence its decisions. Yet, in the year 1937, a President of the United States openly avows his right to influence the court's decisions by picking justices who conform to his views. This is to be found in Mr. Roosevelt's March 4 speech, the same one in which he rejected the present method of amending the Constitution.

So future historians will have to record regretfully that the 150th year after the signing of the Constitution was marked by a deliberate attempt to undermine and transform our constitutional system into an one-man government and a one-political-party dictatorship such as now throttle the liberties of the people of Russia, Germany and Italy. A sad anniversary.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Sept. 17, 1927.

Miss Dora Jacobs of south of Marion and Miss Lillian Plack of Blaine avenue left on an eight weeks' trip through the western states.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kent and daughter Virginia and Mrs Mary Stark returned to their home in Detroit after a visit of several days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Diebert of Olney avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Don Diebert of Carhart street.

Three cases of smallpox, the first on record here since early in June, were reported to the board of health.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Sept. 17, 1917.

An "isolation move" against the Austro-Hungarian forces on Monte San Gabriele was being carried out by the Italian troops on the southern end of the Bainsizza plateau.

Thirty - nine applications for liquor licenses were on file with Richard Horn, secretary of the Marion county liquor licensing commission, with Saturday the final day for filing. On the last day of the filing time a year ago 42 applications had been received.

The feature picture at the Marion theater was "Man's Woman" with Ethel Clayton in the leading role and at the Grand there was a double bill made up of a drama, "The Customary Two Weeks," and a Charles Hoyt farce comedy, "A Brass Monkey."

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferriman of Owens street.

The Progress club held its first meeting of the fall season when the members were guests all day at the home of Mrs. A. L. Lowe on Girard avenue. Arrangements were made to set aside every Wednesday afternoon for Red Cross work.

A farewell was held at the S. H. Gast home in Prospect for four young men who were to leave Saturday for war training at Camp Sherman. The party, given by two Sunday school classes, was in honor of Harry Lauer, Ray Blue, Victor Oswald and Nellie Russell. A farewell address was given by Rev. H. L. Hurrelbrink.

On the Record

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—The financial pages this week carried a warning that Main Street and not Wall Street may be a chief contributor to the next serious economic upset. A leading factor in the last depression was the enormous expansion of credit particularly for speculative purposes. It is discouraging to see that the American people have learned very little from it. The leading characteristic of the Homo Americanus remains this—that he lives beyond his means.

By and large, he is very much like the American farm Negro, who will buy anything from a new set of gold-plated teeth, which he installs as a memorial to his dead grandfather, to a grand piano to put in his leaky cabin. He demands only one condition—credit and 40 years to pay.

Dorothy Thompson

Installment sales are estimated in trade circles to have increased from nearly three billions in 1934 to more than five billions in 1936, and are still higher for 1937. Three-fifths of all the motor cars sold in the United States are purchased on the installment plan. In some other goods the percentage is even larger. The result is that the income of millions of individuals is partly mortgaged for a year or more in advance. This fact adversely affects the sale of other sorts of consumers' goods, and the warning is now being given that it is already leading to a contraction of retail trade in general.

Encouraged by Business

The profoundly unsound economics pursued by the American consumer is one thing that is not the fault of the United States government. You cannot any longer speculate in the stock exchange on a shoestring. You must put up 55 per cent margin when you buy stocks. But American business continues to encourage the wildest kind of speculation in consumers' goods. A man with a family to support, earning $35 a week, is encouraged to buy simultaneously on installment terms a radio, an automobile, an electric refrigerator, suits of clothes and lessons in taxidermy. Arrangements have even been made whereby you can take an ocean cruise and pay for it some time in the future. It was a bright idea, for it was one way of avoiding the other collectors—for the time being, anyhow.

It has been estimated that 90 per cent of all families with incomes of $3,000 a year or under live beyond their means. And the responsibility for this lies with business salesmanship, which, through high pressure methods, constantly creates demands in the minds of people which they cannot reasonably hope to satisfy within the framework of their incomes. There are plenty of young men earning $20 a week who buy a new automobile at least every two years. Homes with leaky roofs and inadequate meals for the children are equipped with every kind of gadget. When the government builds houses with green and black bathrooms for the poor, business men howl to high heaven that the poor are being given delusions of grandeur, but they do the same thing themselves all the time.

Non-Payment Danger

The great danger is, that if there is the slightest recession in business, resulting in reduced incomes, millions of people will not be able to pay the bills created by installment purchases, and will lose their equities in the things they have bought and cause large losses both to themselves and to business. A colossal gamble is going on—the gamble that no depression will set in before these things can be paid for.

This country, more than any other nation on earth, lives in a delusion of wealth, and much installment selling acts as a narcotic to nurture that delusion. The mortgaged family knows no happiness, security or contentment. It lives under a continual nervous strain. A major illness, an operation, mean catastrophe. The family doctor sits up all night when the baby is born, and cannot collect his modest bill because the agents are at the door with a previous claim. Everybody pays for the reckless indebtedness—not only the family, but its other creditors. And it's impossible to estimate what the real prosperity of the country is at any moment, because sales are counted which are not sales at all, but merely highly speculative loans. The standard of living becomes confused with the capacity for creating indebtedness, and when the latter capacity is exhausted the debtor feels that life has gyped him.

'A Star Is Born'—

In New York

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—Thoughts while straining: Modern motherhood—pushing a pram and smoking a cigaret. Charles Laughton's gesticulating in King Henry VIII stilled my taste for roast chicken. Don Herold and that harried little fellow he draws might be twins.

Look-alikes: Harry Richman and Lord Beaverbrook. And Ed Wynn's bride with a powder-puff could have passed for Lillian Russell of 30 years ago. Observation: No one can listen more carelessly than a Negro. Jacob Ruppert is the gloomiest looking oldster in town.

Marina Ostenso sounds like the squeak of an old gate. Billy Seeman joins the dachshund fanciers. It's almost impossible to believe Norma McMein is as bored as she looks. When there are wider pants pleats, Clifton Webb will wear them. That lovely yesteryear star, Christie MacDonald.

Babe Ruth's golf togs suggest a drawing by James Thurber. Anyway, no one has had much more fun out of politics than Al Smith. Unless it is Jimmy Walker. The Capitol theater closed and completely done over in a week is the top in quick decorating. Four shifts of workers.

Big nickel's worth of nice clean fun: Watching a cup of Automat coffee fill precisely to the brim. Louis Sobol doesn't look so pale in the daylight. Bob Ripley's receding hair line. It is hard to pass Ina Claire without shrieking: "Hello Gorgeous!"

No job in the modern whirl demands such perfect sense of timing as the posts held by minute men in the control rooms of broadcasting studios. They must keep things going to the actual split second or jam up an expensive program. The greatest of fears is for an actor to muff a cue—if he doesn't recover quickly the program may as well be scrapped, for things almost invariably go from bad to worse. A good ad libber such as Fred Allen can gloss over a bad wobble, but there are not many Fred Allens. The minute men operate by flashing signals much in the manner of finger manipulations in the old Curb Market in Broad street.

Shortly before noon the old Amsterdam foyer was a meeting place of the Broadway theater reporters, such as Rennold Wolfe, Bide Dudley, Charlie Somerville and Eugene Kelcey Allen. The booking agents also bivouacked there, for, to sign up a player with Ziegfeld or Erlanger practically made them. There was Malcolm Douglass, house manager, who wrote jingles for St. Nicholas magazine. Big moves in the theatrical world seemed to radiate from the New Amsterdam.

The debacle of the legitimate theater is not, as many producers would have us believe due, entirely to the growth of movies. The producers brought much of their trouble on themselves. They refused to keep step with changing order. Their theaters were small, cramped and unattractive. Ushers are diffident and only Winthrop Ames thought of serving free coffee in the lounge at intermission. Those who went to the box offices for seats were greeted with a supercilious look that said plainly: "You poor Rube. No good seats are for sale here. The moment a show was a hit the choicest seats went to the agencies at whatever the tariff would stand. Illusion lost in cold commercialism.

The first theater I visited in New York was the Globe, during its early popularity under the Dillingham management. In comparison to theaters in Cincinnati it was tremendously tiny and inhospitable. But I shall never forget Fred Stone's spectacular entrance—perhaps the most spectacular up to that time. He was supposed to be making home brew in the basement of his home and there was a terrific explosion with Stone shooting up through the floor like a rocket, covered with foam and grinning: "I put in one raisin too many."

Can't Scare Him

By PRESTON GROVER.

WASHINGTON—Apparently you can't scare the great American sucker.

After the punishment the stock market has passed out to its participants in recent days, it would seem that the small bird with his few hundred dollars of sock-money would stay out until the trouble blew over. Not so.

The securities and exchange commission has been keeping a daily tabulation on the doings of the little fellow in the stock market. His buyings and sellings are kindly described by the busy traders as "odd lots" deals in which less than 100 shares are involved.

The exchange began keeping that report daily on June 7. With the exception of two days, the courageous little fellows on the outside continued to pour in their money in steadily greater volume than they took out right through the hectic week ending July 11. In that week there were repeated slumps in the market, slumps that recalled 1929.

Can't Scare Him.

But did the little fellow's panic muscles tighten? Not so that it was especially noticeable. It is true that after the earliest sharp break of Sept. 7, the little fellows seemed to feel some alarm. The following day their efforts to get out of the market brought sales to 389,528 shares while they bought in only 387,778.

Even on that day there were more "odd lot" orders to buy than to sell, 14,900 to 13,592. While the number of orders is not an exact measure of the number of buyers and sellers, it points strongly to the conclusion that the actual number of little fellows who bought into the market despite the break was greater than the number who sold out.

But the following Saturday, Sept. 11, there came another wave of selling among the big buyers in the market, that brought a slump as sharp as on the previous Tuesday. Tuesday it had been suggested that the sharp note of Russia to Italy on submarine piracy was responsible for the drop. By Saturday that theory had been discounted almost wholly, yet the bewildering drop came.

Still Can't Scare Him.

But did the little fellow take fright? Not so it could be measured in the "odd lot" transactions. On that day 9,496 "odd lot" orders came in to buy 235,764 shares of stock while orders to sell came from but 7,723 involving 222,521 shares, a neat margin considering that Saturday is only part of a day so far as the stock market is concerned.

Nor did a week-end of cogitation convince the little fellows that there was danger ahead. The following Monday, Sept. 13, "odd-lot" orders flocked into the market 17,998 strong to buy 457,054 shares, compared with selling orders of 11,582 involving 337,483 shares.

Arthur H. Jones was one of the commissioners appointed by President Grant to settle the claims of the Chippewa Indians for lands in M[illegible]. He was born at Circleville, O., Sept. 22, 1844 but was taken at an early age with his family to a farm in Delaware county, Ohio. He studied in the public schools, under private teachers and for a short time at Ohio Wesleyan university. Although he became a professional farmer and cattle raiser, Mr. Jones also served as a bank director and a leader in the Republican party. In addition to the government service on the commission mentioned he represented the Delaware-Morrow joint district in the Ohio legislature.

SOME CONSTITUTION DAY OBSERVATIONS

The United States is the ... democratic government. ... have enjoyed more po... stability than any other ... excepting the British ... has this happened? Even ... Constitution day, it sounds ... to attribute it to a few ... on a piece of parchment. ... not been the Constitu...

... it has been recognition ... succession of Americans ... that constitutional govern... their country's only hope ... of salvation from the political evils which always have threatened humanity and always will. To this end, they have kept the Constitution foremost—not because it was perfect, but because it was the most satisfactory document obtainable.

They have not held it sacrosanct and immutable. They have made it rather, the battleground for their arguments, changing it here and there as the fortunes of the fighting went first to one side, then to the other. The important point is, they have clung to it jealously, as the charter of their liberty—the symbol of a government by law, as opposed to a government by men.

IT IS, of course, true that in the first period of constitutional government the judicial aspect was not important. While the greatest of the founding fathers lived, the Constitution remained their responsibility. It was defended and interpreted by its creators.

But here again, it became evident that the union which was essential to preservation of American independence demanded men who would work tirelessly for what they knew was right after the framers of the Constitution had passed on. The function of the supreme court began to be made plain.

John Marshall succeeded to the responsibility which had been borne by George Washington and Alexander Hamilton in the issue between the wreckers and builders of a strong republic. The dignity and usefulness of the supreme court as the instrument for preserving confidence in constitutional government dates from his appointment as chief justice at the beginning of the 19th century.

The court's record is not without stain. It has erred. It has yielded to the clutch of politicians scrambling over each other for advantage. It has been attacked ruthlessly. Its fate has hung uncertainly in the balance more than once. But, like the Constitution, like the government created by the Constitution and the country which stable government has made possible, the court has survived.

It happens to be under attack at the moment on the score of states' rights vs. national rights—a momentous issue 150 years ago, too. This year has witnessed an attempt to reduce the judicial factor in constitutional government to impotency. The attempt has failed, though it is certain to be resumed. That issue is not settled; it never has been.

FOR 150 years, by some alchemy that must have been accidental because no other government has been able to duplicate the result, the United States has remained in a condition of political balance. The most violent disturbances have proved only temporary in their effect. As nearly as human institutions can approach it, the Constitution has approached immortality. It has created a nation—the greatest of modern republics.

Controversy has raged about it for a century and a half. That has been its strength. As long as Americans argue about its meaning, it will survive. If ever they cease to care what it means, the beginning of the end of the United States will be in sight.

APPROVAL OF BANK TRANSACTION ASKED

An application of the state superintendent of banks to sell desperate and doubtful claims of the Marion Savings Bank to the Ohio Bureau of Credits for $2,350 was filed yesterday in common pleas court. The application is one of the steps in the final wind up of the affairs of the bank, which has been in liquidation since March 14, 1931.

Many of the assets remaining are of doubtful collection and would require a long time to collect, according to the application. Continuance of liquidation of them by the state would be at a prohibitive cost, the application states.

The assets, estimated to have a face value of more than $100,000, consist of unsecured notes, mortgage loans, collateral loans, stock liability judgments, furniture and fixtures, and stock in the Marion Printing Co., and the Marion Union Stockyards.

The application also asks permission to sell a few tracts of real estate and one mortgage loan at public auction.

TWENTY IN WEEK'S TRAFFIC COURT LIST

Names of 20 motorists accused of minor traffic violations were listed on the traffic docket in municipal court this morning. Sixteen had been cited by police for overtime parking, two for parking near fire hydrants and two for improper alley parking. Of the score of drivers cited, three had appeared and paid fines before traffic court was held this morning. Five others appeared in court and paid fines of $1 each after entering pleas of guilty. Others cited will be expected to make their appearance either later today or tomorrow, court officials said. Those who do not answer the traffic charges will be summoned, court officials said.

WHEELER CALLS FOR BLACK QUIZ

Wants Roosevelt To Name Investigators Into Klan Charges Against Justice.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—Sen Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, joined today the critics membership in the Ku Klux Klan, declaring President Roosevelt should appoint an impartial investigating board.

If the charges are true, the President should ask for Black's resignation," said Wheeler, field marshal of the senate opponents of the Roosevelt court bill.

"This is a good illustration of what happens when an administration acts hastily and what happens when senators vote blindly for every suggestion that is made by the White House."

Brands Charges Spite

Shortly before Wheeler issued his statement at Fargo, N D, Sen Reynolds, Democrat of North Carolina, declared that opposition to Black was "a lot of spite and political propaganda."

"Hugo Black in my opinion is a gentleman of the highest character," said Reynolds. "I voted for his confirmation and I would do it all over again because I know he is honest and able."

Further support for Black came from the convention at Kansas City of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Ship Builders, Workers and Helpers of America.

The 600 delegates unanimously adopted a resolution commending the justice and President Roosevelt after Edward Keating editor of the magazine "Labor," praised Black as a friend of workers and farmers

Bankhead Denies Klan Hookup

The furore created by published reports alleging Black was a life member of the klan became so broad that Speaker Bankhead denied that he himself ever had been a klansman.

Rep. Fish Republican of New York, had hinted an inquiry might find several southern congressmen "on the klan payroll or affiliated with the organization."

Efforts to force Black off the bench were not limited to congressional critics

ANOTHER FRUIT TREE DOING EXTRA WORK

The second report of a fruit tree in Marion county blossoming twice this summer was made today by eight-year-old Donald Redd, who found along the Scioto river, north of Prospect, a crab apple tree in full blossom Donald, the son of Mr and Mrs. H. A. Redd, of one-half mile north of Newman's, discovered the blossoms while he was walking near the river The tree had bloomed early in the spring, his father reported Earlier this week Mrs. M. B. Augenstein of Waldo reported that a cherry tree in her yard was in blossom for the second time this year.

HOODED SOCIETY PROBED IN PARIS

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Sept. 17—A secret military society, the "Hooded Ones," was investigated today on the possibility it plotted to overthrow the government.

Four suspected members of the organization were brought before an examining magistrate Questioning was behind closed doors and is expected to last several days

Police who confiscated machine guns, hand grenades and personal documents in a raid on branches of the society, said they would continue raiding hideouts of the organization, which is called in French "Les Cagoulards"

O. W. U. PROFESSOR RESIGNS POSITION

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 17—Dr. William H. Husband, Ohio Wesleyan university professor of economics and business administration who has been on leave of absence for a year, resigned today to continue as a deputy to the federal home loan bank board in Washington. Robert L. Smith, graduate of Oberlin college in 1933 and a fellow of the Brookings Institute in Washington will replace him on the faculty.

BOY HIT BY AUTO SLIGHTLY INJURED

Buddie Hildreth, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hildreth of 909 Cheney avenue, escaped with a minor cut and bruises when he was struck by an automobile near Bellefontaine and Olney avenues yesterday about 3:30 p. m., according to a report to police.

Harold Boyd of Sawyer road, who officers said was the driver of the car, reported the accident at the police headquarters. He was driving east on Bellefontaine avenue and near the intersection of Olney avenue two or three small boys ran across the street in front of his car. He was unable to avoid striking Hildreth, he said. The boy suffered a slight cut on the ear and was taken to his home by the driver of the car.

QUARTET TO SING IN LARUE SUNDAY

LARUE, Sept. 17—A quartet of men from Columbus, known as the "Gospel Four" will deliver a program of music at the Methodist Episcopal church here Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

The water required annually to supply American locomotives would fill a channel 100 yards wide and 12 feet deep from New York to San Francisco.

Charter Became U. S. Basic Law 150 Years Ago

Nation Celebrates Amid Raging Controversy Over Supreme Court.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—The nation celebrated today the 150th anniversary of the signing of the federal Constitution amid controversy reminiscent of that which raged around the historic document at its birth

President Roosevelt, whose proposal for reorganizing the supreme court instigated the present day constitutional dispute, will be the chief spokesman at the nation's official celebration tonight.

His speech, scheduled for 9:30 p. m., eastern standard time, was awaited with widespread interest for a hint of his future course on judiciary changes

Observance of the event was begun last night by Sen Borah, Republican of Idaho, who told a Masonic audience.

"Constitutional government is the only government which in restoring the economic welfare of the people, at the same time preserves their rights and their liberty."

He made no specific mention of the President's court program, but asserted

"Until the people speak, until the people make known their desire, the Constitution is sacredly binding upon the people, upon officials upon the congress, the executive and the courts

"It is sacred against the right or power of congress or the executive or the courts, or of all combined, to change or modify it through unwarranted, forced or strained constructions Such changes are usurpations—none the less vicious because not openly avowed."

It was an appropriate setting, in the very shadow of the monument erected by a grateful nation to the man who presided at the constitutional convention 150 years ago

Before tonight's celebration, President Roosevelt headed 75 miles into Maryland to participate in the commemoration of another event which affected the course of American history—the battle of Antietam on Sept 17, 1862.

Tomorrow night he will leave for his family home in Hyde Park for a few days' rest before starting on a possible long trip to the western coast

Charter Has Been Changed 21 Times

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—The Constitution has been amended 21 times since its birth 150 years ago

The first 10 amendments, known collectively as the bill of rights, went into force in 1871

Only one of the 21—the 18th or prohibition amendment—has been repealed.

MANVILLE'S FOURTH WAITING IN RENO

By The Associated Press

RENO, Nev. Sept. 17—Flaxen-haired Marcella Edwards Manville went into voluntary retirement today as the first step in her third trip here—and the last one, says she—to divorce Tommy Manville.

The former show girl arrived here by plane yesterday along with reports her husband had settled $200,000 on her in pre-divorce negotiations.

"I am going to get a divorce this time and that's that,' she said Said Manville in New York.

DAVEY PROMISES PAROLE REFORMS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O Sept 17—A reorganization of the Ohio parole board and the system of redeeming meritorious convicts for society will be announced next week, Gov Martin L. Davey asserted today.

Davey gave no indication in a formal statement along what lines the reorganization would be made, but he declared

"I feel sure that the program we are developing will meet the best expectations of all interested citizens We propose to make a thoroughly good job of it."

PLANE WITH AUTO ENGINE AT AIRPORT

Unusual Craft To Be Here Until Tomorrow Morning.

An airplane with a conventional automobile engine, one of few in the country and the first to visit the Marion Airport arrived yesterday and will be here until tomorrow morning. Harold Cobb, manager of the airport, after piloting the unusual ship for two hours said it operates just as well as an ordinary plane.

The motor is a regulation Ford V-8 engine. The plane is owned by the Arrow Aircraft Corp. of Lincoln, Neb., which is beginning to manufacture them commercially. They retail for $1,900.

During its stay here, the plane is being used by Mr. Cobb to make free passenger flights for interested residents of Marion.

The plane cruises at from 80 to 95 miles an hour and gets 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline, Mr. Cobb said. It is a two-seated, low-winged monoplane with a wing-spread of 26 feet.

3 BADLY INJURED IN CRAWFORD CO. CRASH

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Sept 17—Three persons are in the City hospital suffering from serious injuries sustained in a head-on automobile collision one and one-half miles north of the Spanish tavern on the Boundary road, at 4:40 p. m. yesterday

Mrs. Charles Althouse, 23, of North Robinson, suffered a fractured skull and jawbone, and her face is crushed Her husband Charles Althouse, 25, suffered a fractured left wrist, a lacerated nose and possible chest injuries, and Virgil Stoltz, 20, of Bucyrus, a possible brain concussion The 8-year old son of Mr and Mrs Althouse, who was with his parents, had only minor injuries. He was treated at the hospital and released

The woman and two men have been unconscious since the accident and Sheriff Albert French who is investigating the case has been unable to get details of the accident

The injured persons were taken to the hospital in an ambulance called by Mr Althouse, who walked a quarter of a mile to the farm home of Mrs Ed. Burwell after the accident. Both cars were demolished.

The road on which the accident occurred is not paved and it is believed that a cloud of dust raised by a car which preceded the one driven by Mr. Stoltz, obscured the vision of Mr. Stoltz and the driver of the Althouse car

Current Turned On Over Part of Utility System Fought by Farmers.

By The Associated Press

BELLEVUE, O., Sept. 17—The Lake Erie Power & Light Co guarded its new lines today as each side awaited the other's next move in the fight between the company and farmers allied with the North Central Farm bureau.

Power was on today in a mile of new lines completed late yesterday by a large crew which replaced nearly 20 poles and half a mile of wires torn down by 100 angry farmers in the rural district of Fireside, three miles south of Bellevue

Company officials said they were not interested in the farmers' proposals to erect a competing cooperative line.

The company was completing an inventory of damage with a view to possible legal action because the farmers served written notice on Sept. 8 that they were prepared to use any means to prevent construction of the new line.

The farmers who had picketed the line, withdrew following issuance of a temporary injunction against them by Judge C. H Huston at Tiffin

BISHOP COMMENTS ON BID TO MARTIN

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 17 — Bishop Henry W Hobson responded today to criticism voiced by Bishop William T Manning of New York and denied the Episcopal church general convention committee selected Hamer Martin, Committee for Industrial Organization leader as a speaker during the triennial convention here next month.

"I do not feel that the choice of a speaker for the meeting under discussion was a wise one," sid Bishop Hobson in a formal statement.

LEAGUE WOOS NAZIS WITH REFORM PLAN

Proposes Separation of Covenant from World War Peace Treaties.

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, Sept. 17—A committee of experts studying proposed separation of the League of Nations covenant from World war peace treaties was reported today virtually decided on a redraft which it was believed might bring Germany back into the league

The "divorce" project has long been a favorite among league universality enthusiasts as a device for smoothing the way for German reentry to the fold.

The committee's method of meeting Germany's and other long standing objections to covenant references to post-war settlements included blue-penciling of all such phrases as 'allied" and 'associated powers"

This phase of reform was one of the planks of British policy outlined last September by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden

His declaration was interpreted as a gesture toward Germany The League of Nations was created in the preamble of the Treaty of Versailles which Reichsfuehrer Hitler denounced and nullified within Germany's borders

Hitler successively scrapped the military clauses by some of his most dramatic strokes—his reconstitution of the German air force, creation of a conscript army and finally negotiation of a naval treaty with Britain permitting a naval tonnage equal to one third of Britain's

Special to The Star

KENTON, Sept. 17 — Harry Dingledine, 54, was sighted in the vicinity of DeGraff Thursday afternoon by a farmer according to a report given to Police Chief R. R. Clark. The farmer said he was positive that the man is the desperado sought in an armed robbery and police killing at Springfield and told officers that he was accompanied by three other persons, in a Ford sedan bearing Illinois license number 1-032-513

State highway patrolmen and officials of neighboring counties were notified. The car was traveling toward Quincy, O., along side roads, the farmer said.

DRIVE PLANNED BY JUNIOR C. OF C.

Membership Campaign Set To Start Sept. 23.

Plans for a membership drive to be inaugurated Sept. 23 and continue until Oct. 7, were discussed at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce members, held last night in rooms on East Center street. Joe R. Roby was named to head the membership committee, which is to announce plans and open the campaign at the called meeting next Thursday.

It was announced that Robert N. Heininger, chairman of the organization's committee which handled the Golden Gloves boxing tournament last year, will attend a meeting of Amateur Athletic Union officials in Cincinnati tomorrow. The tournaments held here annually are sponsored by the A. A. U. Bovis Morgan, president, was in charge of the meeting.

FLOOD ROUTS REBELS AND FOES ADVANCE

Loyalists Attack After Blasted Reservoir Ousts Enemy from Trenches.

By The Associated Press

MADRID, Sept. 17—A dramatic incident of the long months of warfare on the Madrid front which enabled the dogged defenders of the former capital to make a small gain against insurgent siege lines was reported today.

Government soldiers last week discovered an insurgent water reservoir near Carabanchel, southwest of the city, and planted a dynamite charge

The mine was exploded yesterday and water flooded nearby insurgent trenches. Soldiers were forced to climb out to keep from drowning.

When they appeared over the top they were cut down by government machine gunners.

With that momentary advantage the government troops clambered over the top themselves and made a small gain of territory in their fierce charge.

Reports from Hendaye said Asturian defenders of Gijon, falling back under the relentless thrusts of the Spanish insurgent offensive, were dynamiting the path of their foe

The insurgent's daily communique declared the Asturian's resistance, which had drawn the praise of Gen Francisco Franco himself, had collapsed before the insurgents' assault yesterday in a driving rain.

by a heavy margin, will thereafter control city legislation

La Guardia's refusal to participate in the primary campaign, in which Mahoney and Copeland wrangled over the Ku Klux Klan, the Nazis, the Spanish and Chinese situations, pure milk the five cent fare, and party loyalty, may have affected the primary vote cast for him.

The total La Guardia vote, including the write-ins on Democratic ballots, was 131,484 in the most complete tally received Mahoney's total at the same time was 399,914, and Copeland's total, on both tickets, of 279,300, was far above La Guardia's In contrast to this showing La Guardia was swept into office in his first term by a landslide of 868,522 votes The total vote cast in the primary election yesterday apparently was smaller control of the pirate war in the Mediterranean.

Submarines are the major objective in the new anti-pirate patrol set up last week by the nine powers at Nyon, a conference boycotted by Italy and Germany.

Its Functions Ended

The system of observers in ports, to check on vessels departing for Spain, will be continued momentarily.

As the Nyon powers met at Geneva, still deadlocked with Italy over her demands for parity in the new anti-piracy patrol, neither side showed the least sign of yielding in the dispute.

Italy has protested that her assignment under the Nyon accord to a patrol of the Tyrrhenian sea was too small a role, considering her interests in the Mediterranean and her standing as a maritime power. She demanded a part as large as those given to Britain and France.

GULDAHL SEEKS NEW GOLF CROWN

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 17 — Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, the bulky national open golf king, hoped to write another chapter today in the story of his climb to gold and glory by beating back the challenge of a field of 140 in the 37th annual western open tourney.

A year ago Guldahl hopped from the golfing depths to the peak by beating a stellar field in the western, carding a 64 on his final 18 holes to take the trophy. He followed that by winning a host of big money events, including the all-important national open, in which he set a new scoring record of 281 at Oakland Hills.

JOB CENSUS TO BE BY QUESTIONNAIRES

Vital Statistics To Be Sought from 30,000,000 American Homes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 — The Roosevelt administration is arranging a little piece of home work for the nation's unemployed this fall.

Officials said today the forthcoming unemployment census, first of its kind, probably will be handled by mailing simple, understandable questionnaires to all the 30,000,000 American homes

Only a few questions will be asked, authorities said They will be designed to gather only such information as degree of unemployment, ability to work, skill, and former occupations of the registrants.

Advisers to John D. Biggers of Toledo, O., who accepted the directorship of the census yesterday, said the great majority of unemployed could fill out the questionnaires in their homes

Biggers, president of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co, said he hoped the survey could be completed by Dec. 1.

Estimates of the total unemployed have ranged from 3,000,000 to more than 11,000,000

tional question, the case is ended for that part.

However, the court must then pass on the matter of legal questions which it is requested to consider in a motion to certify the record. If it also declines to certify the record, then the case is closed permanently If it sustains the motion, then a hearing will be conducted but not on constitutional questions

Mouser To File Brief

Mr. Mouser will also file a brief of arguments in answer to the city's brief before the court conducts a hearing on the advisability of appeal.

The constitutional questions raised by Mr. Carhart are whether council can repeal the pension systems, whether state laws authorizing cities to establish pension systems are constitutional; whether pensions are a vested right, whether state laws authorizing pensions take property without due process of law.

Errors charged by Mr Carhart in the court of appeals decision are the same as those in the Thompson case with the exception of the one described above

Ulme's suit originated early in 1936 following the repeal in February by the council of pension systems established in 1926. The specific request in the suit is that the city be prohibited from using funds collected for payment of pensions for any other use.

COAST GUARD HUNTS LOST RACING SLOOP

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Sept. 17—Four coast guard cutters today pointed their prows northeast to Nova Scotia as, in a fanwise formation, they scoured the sea for the missing British racing sloop Endeavour I.

The cutters had searched the water 200 miles east of Nantucket, where the Endeavour and her convoy, Viva, became separated when their towline broke in a gale last Monday night, without success

Meanwhile, Capt. Wallace Grint, master of the Viva which was towing the unsuccessful 1934 America's cup challenger back to England, voiced fear that 15 fathoms of nine inch hawser attached to the Endeavour may have forced her nose under water.

Seafarers said the Endeavour could not have escaped some damage in the blow.

Japanese Seize Chinese Base

By The Associated Press

PEIPING, Sept. 17—Japanese army headquarters tonight announced that Chochow, Chinese advance base 40 miles southwest of Peiping, had been captured in a steam roller Japanese offensive along the Peiping-Hankow railway.

The Japanese announced their mechanized forces, estimated at 60,000 men, had gained 12 miles in the last 24 hours after spectacular crossings of the Yungting and Chuma rivers, south and southwest of this city.

The Japanese command claimed further advances for its highly mobile column which has penetrated Shansi province from the north. It reported the capture of Hengyuan, 40 miles southeast of Taiyung, the railway center of North Shansi, and of Laiyuan on the Hopeh-Shansi border 60 miles west of Paotingfu

(In Nanking, however, Chinese military headquarters reported a strong counter-thrust against Japans' Shansi expedition Chinese airmen were said to have bombed it and inflicted heavy damage)

The main body of the Japanese army of 60,000 men effected the crossing of the Chuma river under the brilliant light of last night's moon and pursued the resisting Chinese rearguard toward Chochow, the new Chinese advance base 40 miles south of Peiping

The Chinese made a determined stand at the river but without artillery and airplanes were unable to halt the Japanese war machine. Heavy toll of the two Japanese advance regiments was taken, however.

Foreign military observers considered that the Nanking government was deliberately sacrificing its regional troops in north China to retard the Japanese advance until the crack national divisions could man the main defense line some 20 miles south of the present operations

The present Japanese attack south of Peiping was expected to hurl the Chinese regional troops back to this strong line before the end of a week, placing the Japanese face to face with an entrenched enemy of superior strength. The Chinese will be supported on this line by adequate artillery and aircraft.

Observers are convinced that the Chinese defense of Shanghai has been depleted of airplanes so that they could be distributed on the north China front for the main battle with the Japanese All Chinese and Japanese observers agree that the war will be won or lost in north China and that the Shanghai operations, while dramatic, have little tactical importance

Meanwhile, the Japanese-designed political framework for a new north China was believed emerging today as the result of a week's conference behind closed doors. The four independent governments now functioning in North China—the Peiping and Tientsin municipalities and the Hopeh and Chahar provincial councils—were reported being welded together under the direction of Lt. Gen. Seiichi Kita, new chief of military intelligence for north China.

Ridged rubber strips that cannot slip have been invented for filling joints in concrete roadways to reduce repairs.

UNION COUNTY FARMER DIES

Cone Howard Sr., Largest Land Owner in Vicinity, Stricken at 72.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 17—Cone Howard Sr., 72, was taken by death at his country home near Milford Center, Thursday.

Mr. Howard was the largest landowner in this county and the last surviving member of a family that was one of the pioneers in the development of Union county.

Death came following a gradual failure of strength extending over a period of about six months.

Mr. Howard was president of the Union county board of education at the time of his death, and had served continuously on the board since it was organized in 1914. He was a member of the three Masonic bodies of Marysville. In addition to his agricultural interests, Mr. Howard was for years president of the Farmers & Merchants bank at Milford Center. He retired from that position two years ago.

His farming operations included cultivation and stock raising on more than a thousand acres of land he owned in Union township, near Milford Center. In his younger years he is said to have owned and farmed as many as two thousand acres in Union and other townships.

The widow and four children survive. The children are Mrs. Albert K Chapman of Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Peter Merkle of Union township, Cone Howard, Jr., of Allen township and Verne Howard of Union township.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the home in charge of the Knights Templar and with Rev. John A. Stuart of the Marysville Presbyterian church officiating. Burial will be in the cemetery at Milford Center.

MARYSVILLE OPENS GRID SEASON TODAY

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 17—The football season here will be opened this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock when Marysville and Mifflin high school elevens clash in the first game of the season.

On the eve of the encounter, Coach Jerry Kingsmore and the local gridders are confident of victory, but are not overlooking the fact the invaders are equally as confident. Mifflin, a Franklin county centralized school, has a larger enrollment than Marysville high, according to Coach Kingsmore, who expects the local squad to have a real battle for the honors of the day.

All Paths Except The Road To Riches Are Open To Soviet Schoolboy of 14

This is the fifth in a series of six articles examining closeup the average boy of 14 around the world today...his prospects for the new school term—and for the future—at the age when, in America, he would this month be entering high school.

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Associated Press Foreign Service

MOSCOW, Sept. 17—From workers' homes, Russia's 14-year-olds go back to their classes this month to become good toilers and loyal supporters of the Soviet regime—unless war or something else happens to upset the "workers' paradise."

Constant supervision of his life by a communist, one-party government, the assurance of a job without riches if he behaves and perhaps distinction in some field of endeavor honored by the Soviets—that is the outlook for Ivan Ivanovich, the typical Russian boy.

He may become dictator, doctor, factory manager or filer, a scientist or soldier, or just a worker. Any career except that of capitalist, landlord or employer of labor is open to him.

Can Learn Trade Early

He might even study for the priesthood, as his "dear father, teacher and leader," Joseph Stalin, did before he became a revolutionary. But that is extremely improbable, for Ivanovich was born and reared under a godless, anti-religious regime. Atheism is part of his education.

At 14, Ivan is enjoying his seventh year of free education by the state and he has three more years to go to school. Then he may go to work, or to university, if he can pass the examinations.

If Ivan found school irksome and his parents were willing, he might go to work in a factory. Since he is only 14, he would work only four hours a day. His pay would be small, probably less than 100 rubles a month ($20 at the official exchange rate, but about $5 in buying power). And he would have to learn a trade in the factory school.

Must Enter Army at 19

It is quite likely, therefore, that Ivan prefers school. His father is able to support him, especially since the government provides many facilities, including free medical service.

Government regulation is on every side of young Ivan. He will feel it more as he grows older and goes to work. He is not compelled to be a Young Pioneer, or member of the communist youth organization for boys up to 16 years old, but most of his playmates—6,000,000 in the Soviet Union—are in it, so Ivan joins. He wears a red necktie as a badge of membership.

Five years from now, when he is 19, Ivan must begin two years of military service in the Red army. As a Young Pioneer he has learned discipline, marching to drumbeats and perhaps rifle-shooting or constructing gliders in a boys' club.

Knows Little of U. S.

Ivan has been taught that the capitalistic countries surrounding Russia are his enemies. The "fascist" countries, particularly Germany and Japan, are preparing war against his fatherland, he is told.

Ivan, who does not talk to foreigners, probably has little feeling about the United States, knowing it principally as the country to which Soviet aviators have flown by way of the North Pole and as a country noted for labor efficiency, which should be emulated.

FIVE ARRAIGNED IN UNION COUNTY COURT

Four Admit Guilt and Receive Sentences; Fifth To Be Tried Oct. 1.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 17—Five men who were indicted by the Union county grand jury this week were arraigned Thursday before Judge R. L. Cameron by County Prosecutor William J. Porter.

Denell Austin, 25, of Plain City, indicted on a charge of burglary, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve from one to 15 years in the Ohio penitentiary. Austin was indicted on a charge of stealing chickens.

Carlton Morris, alias J. Barton, 47, of Louisa, Ky., pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery. The court withheld sentence for a day or two. Roy John Kierns, 25, of Plain City, pleaded not guilty to an indictment for assault and battery. The court assigned his trial for Oct. 1. Kierns was charged with assault and battery on his wife.

John Lester Parker of Jerome township, indicted on a charge of assault and battery on his brother, Earl Parker, entered a plea of guilty and was assessed fine of $100 and costs. Robert Roy Wilkins, 28, of Peoria, indicted for burglary, waived the reading of the indictment and entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced from one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary.
